'School days' were never like this

If you are a dancer divine, this course is not for you. Many of us, however, can profit from Miss Deloris Barnard's Monday and Wednesday dancing classes at A. H. T. H. S. night school. Most candidates for a graceful dancing technique are men, though a few women are also taking advantage of the course. Lilting waltzes, rhythmic foxtrots, and the magic steps are on this semester's schedule. Next semester the more difficult rhumba, samba, tango, and last, but not least, jitterbugging will be taken up. Enthusiastic high school seniors are assistant instructors.

Water shortage gives a scare to municipality

Arlington Heights water department had a real scare the other day when water pressure dropped to 38 pounds because of trouble at the east well. Quick repairs were made and the well is again in operation. However, for the first time in five years, water was secured from the race track, provision for such an emergency having been made a number of years ago on a reciprocal basis between the Arlington Jockey Club and the village. That connection has proven to be a good insurance.

The north well is still not in operation. Plans for repairs on the west well will be withheld for the present.

THE BUSINESS district is faced with either some provision for alleys or blocking of streets by the huge vans that unload at local stores. The Jewel Tea is making provision in its new building plans for an unloading zone ten feet wide on one side of their property.

Owners of similar stores in that area will have to adopt the similar measures unless alleys can be provided. The village board discussed the matter Monday night, but took no action other than to ask the attorney if some such provision can be required of applicants of building permits for future stores.

Alderman Luehring told the board that the future growth of the business district along modern lines with maximum use of the present inadequate streets require that transport trucks be relegated to alleys. The business district does not have those alleys today, but they are a future necessity.

REZONING of entire town was suggested by Alderman Hartman. He thinks that the present zoning ordinance has become obsolete and one should be enacted that could be strictly enforced and which will allow for new classifications for areas in which two flats and apartments could be economically erected. He also suggested the earmarking for future removal buildings that have become an eyesore.

BUILDING permits have been issued for a $46,000 Jewel Tea building on South Dunton and $32,000 "LOK" building on Northwest Highway and Kennicott. Additional November permits were 12 residences for $154,00.

Police department reported collection of $182 in fines. Slippery pavements caused two minor accidents with property damage only. Due to bad parking conditions a number of residents resorted to all day parking of their cars in the downtown district.

'Bundle Days' next Monday and Tuesday

There's still time to gather up a bundle of serviceable worn clothing and shoes for needy children in Europe and poor rural areas of this country. Most needed items are clean and wearable coats, dresses, sweaters, pants, heavy socks, and shoes tied together in pairs. Both adult sizes and clothing for very small children should be included.

Collection days are Monday and Tuesday, December 8 and 9, at the North and South Public Elementary schools and the Arlington Heights Township high school. Where there is no school-age youngster in the home, the parcel may be delivered directly to the school or may be sent with a neighbor's child.

The clothing collected will be distributed to worthy families by the "Save the Children Federation." Mrs. Edward Emery, P. T. A. Welfare Chairman, and the student senate of the Arlington Heights township high school, are in charge of the collection in Arlington Heights.

Garden Club invites garden lovers to Christmas party

One of the first pre-Christmas events in Arlington Heights will be a party and holiday program arranged by the Garden Club to be held December 10 at the north school.

The speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Henry W. Shedd who will talk on Christmas traditions and arrangements for the holiday season. Mrs. Shedd will bring a great deal of material with her and actually demonstrate various decorative arrangements that can be made within a home on the mantlepiece, doorways, etc. Mrs. Shedd has been so in demand that her Christmas talks began November 10.

Aside from the interesting arrangements that will be shown, a real live Santa Claus will be there with his knapsack full of Christmas presents. Each one that attends the Garden Club meeting is asked to bring a 50c present for Santa Claus' grab-bag. Refreshments ,of course, will be served and everyone in Arlington Heights is invited to attend. Meeting will be at 8:00 p. m.

Library to purchase books for memorial to Lillian Russell

Nearly a hundred dollars has been turned over to Mrs. Baxter, librarian of the Arlington Hts. Public Library, in memory of Miss Lillian Russell, former Arlington school teacher. The money will be used to purchase books that the late Miss Russell would have recommended for children of the upper grade level.

The memorial fund was established at the suggestion of a reader of this paper. Donors are: Lenore Protter, Bessie A. Davis, L. E. Aldrich and family, Belle F. Owen, Raymond E. Hayes, Happy Hour Club, Kenneth Sieburg, Rev. Milo Vondracek and Mrs. Ida Berchtold.

H. C. Paddock Sons, Mrs. Bruce Jarvis. Elmer O. Neuman, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dresmal, Mrs. E. H. Ingles, Irene Russell, Elinor Hackbarth, Mrs. B. G. Baxter, Mrs. Ida Tregellis, Miss Ruth Dale and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fessler. Several of these donors are from outside the village of Arlington Heights.

Modern machinery necessary to run a modern village

The village of Arlington Hts. has been recognizing the fact that proper operation of the municipality requires suitable machinery, expensive as it may be.

Purchases the past year have been a street truck and a street sweeper, not to mention a $13,000 fire truck for which bids will be opened next month.

Rental of privately owned loading machinery to move materials and snow banks has proven expensive. The board is considering the renting of such a machine for village use only.

Considerable man hours would also be saved by use of such a machine for handling refuse left in piles by the sweeper.

Suggest 14 voting machines in Wheeling; 4 for Elk Grove

A survey showing how enough voting machines could be provided for all the suburban areas under County Clerk Michael J. Flynn from the $1,000,000 bond issue approved in the November 4 election was received by the Cook county board Friday from the Automatic Voting Machine corporation, Jamestown, N. Y.

The plan would consolidate the 588 precincts into 307 and provide them with 630 machines, an average of 384 voters per machine. Each machine costs about $1,500. The 241,973 voters under Flynn now average 411 per precinct, and would average 788 under the new plan. Officials would be correspondingly cut, from 3,528 to 1,842.

The board referred the matter to the voting machines committee headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey. She said her first step would be to confer with County Clerk Flynn.

Objection to the plan had been expressed to her by Commissioner William Busse, Mrs. Conkey said. Mr. Busse said that the board would have to draw its own plan, pointing out that, for example, his home town of Mt. Prospect had been combined with voting precincts in Arlington Heights.

"Distances make it extremely difficult to combine precincts in many instances," Commissioner Busse explained. "Putting voting places too far away is a sure way of disfranchisement."

Listed below are townships, proposed precinct number, present precinct number with number of registered voters, total voters, and number of machines:

Wheeling: 1—1 (270) and 12 (274), 544, 2. 2-2 (359), 359, 1. 2-3 (511) and 7 (451), 962, 2. 4-4 (329) and 5 (411), 740, 2. 5-6 (314) and 14 (287), 601, 2. 6-8 (445), 9 (323), 10 (267), 1,035, 3. 7-11 (330) and 13 (529), 859, 2. Total 7 precincts, 5,100 voters, 14 machines.

Remodel police quarters for radio installation

Work began this week on remodeling of Arlington Heights police headquarters preparatory to the installation of its own radio station later this month. All police sergeants have qualified as radio operators and station WBNQ, will go on the air directly from the municipal building before the first of the year.

It will have an ultra high frequency wave length with a radius of ten miles. Service will be car to car, car to station, station to car and by the pressing of a button will give direct contact with the state and county highway departments.

If Palatine and Mt. Prospect request the service, it can be extended to those two towns, which would give them the same coverage as Arlington without the expense of installing a central station and manning it 24 hours a day.

'Black market thriving in France,' says florist

The story that Mr. and Mrs. Martin Goerger, Elk Grove, have brought back home from a visit to the country of their birth, Alsace Lorraine, is not very much different than that given to the readers of this paper last week in an interview with John Randag who has returned from Holland, his birthplace.

The Goergers were accompanied by the brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Goerger, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foeller, of Green Bay. They left Arlington Heights May 14 and after visiting scenic places in Washington and New York, sailed on the freighter, "Shooting Star" May 24, which carried only 11 passengers. This ship was selected because they were unable to secure passage on regular passenger ships. They returned home six months later, November 14.

Poor English food

In place of feeling sorry for the people of France, the visitors from Arlington, give their sympathy to England. They were in London three days, but after one experience in a London eating house, patronized by the white collar workers, they ate the rest of their meals on shipboard. The only thing that was served in the restaurant was gravy soup and cornish paste. One spoonful of the soup was enough and three spoonfuls of the paste emitted such an odor that the party repaired to a pub and a drink of ale was not sufficient to rid them of the taste of the food.

The visitors from America are not accustomed to taking a back seat because of their nationality, but that is what happened to the "Shooting Star," when it was to wait several hours in the Thames esquary while British ships were allowed to proceed.

Three months too long

When the Goergers left home they looked forward to six months in Europe. They were ready to come home in three. The internal situation was so bad that they could do little traveling. They were unable to make good their promise to John Randag to visit him in Holland and during the last three weeks of their stay, they were on pins and needles fearing they might have to stay in Alsace Lorraine, or walk to the seaport to board their boat.

They were fortunate in securing passage for home on the America. Fellow passengers were Curley Brooks and other senators and congressmen who were returning after an official inspection of European conditions.

The Goergers had some delightful trips. With the use of the auto of Mr. Goerger's brother, they visited the Vosges mountains and the Pyrenes.

When the French railroad strike stranded them at Antwerp, Belgium, a taxi was hired for $300 to take the four 300 miles at Strasbourg, the home of Mr. Goerger's brother, who is also in the florist business.

Cook County Herald wins praises in Alsace Lorraine

The people of Alsace Lorraine can not understand how a newspaper like the Cook County Herald can be published in a town of 7,000 inhabitants.

Martin Goerger had arranged with Paddock Publications prior to his departure to Europe for the mailing of the Cook County Herald.

The size of the average paper in France is less than four pages of the Chicago Times size. The average issue of the Herald is over ten times greater.

The Herald was received regularly by Mr. Goerger and much interest was displayed in it by those who had an opportunity to see it.

Mr. Goerger was on a vacation, but kept in touch with his business by the regular receipt of the Florist Review.

Heavy fines await speeders in school zones, says judge

Arlington Heights police department is making a special effort to patrol school zones during the period that pupils are on their way to and from school.

There have been some narrow escapes from fatal accidents, especially on south State road where the pavement is fifty feet wide.

Judge Neuman has offered to cooperate in the safety drive and promises that maximum fines will be inflicted. The speed in school zones is 20 miles an hour.

Chief Skoog told a reporter Tuesday that local residents are the greatest violators. In reply to an appeal from a Scarsdale mother for protective action, he said, "If I arrest every traffic violator a lot of our residents will be paying fines."

John Randag tells Lions about Holland

Any Lions Club member that failed to attend the Tuesday meeting missed an enjoyable evening. After the routine dinner and business meeting, the club was privileged to hear Lion John Randag give an account of his recent trip to Holland.

His talk was very interesting and well received by his audience. Questions were also asked by the members. Lion Randag closed by showing moving pictures he had taken during his visit in Holland.

Womanless Wedding at Palatine Thursday

The Womanless Wedding sponsored by Palatine Lions club will make its last appearance at the Palatine high school auditorium this Thursday evening. The admission is $1.00. The same production was given in Arlington Heights a year ago.

Magician to appear at Arlington high Tuesday, Dec. 9

Orenda, The Magician, who is to present his two hour "Adventures in Mystery" show at Arlington Heights High School Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. on Tuesday, December 9, under the sponsorship of the high school band, has spent a great deal of time and money developing the audience participation feature of his show.

Orenda's idea is to draw the entire audience into the show. To do this he features animal tricks for younger children, escapes and comedy tricks for high school students, and mind-reading and mental mysteries for the adults in the audience. Orenda points out, however, that while each trick does appeal to some special group, it must also entertain the entire audience. This requirement has made it necessary for him to spend years developing each trick in the show and new tricks are rehearsed for many months before they reach Orenda's strict standards.

Tickets for Adventures in Mystery may be purchased from members of the high school band and through the schools.

Oil price increase almost certain

Users of coal are complaining about the advance in ton prices of that fuel. Indications are that users of fuel oil and motorists also have to dig deeper into their pockets to keep their homes warm and to keep their cars running.

One of the largest purchasers of crude oil is offering an increase of 50c a barrel to oil producers. This is almost certain to mean that other oil companies will meet the price and will pass on to users that increase.

In addition to these rumors, the gas stations may have to ration their customers. This is bad news to come at the Christmas season. Local oil men are as displeased over the situation as their customers.

College Day Dec. 11 for juniors and seniors

Arlington Heights Township high school will sponsor a College Day Thursday, December 11, in the high school cafeteria from 9:00 to 11:30 a. m. This is the second College Day to be held in Arlington Heights for the students of this school.

Invitations have been extended to representatives of more than 60 midwest colleges, universities, business colleges and trade schools. The representatives invited were those from schools requested by the students.

THE COLLEGE DAY program is designed to supplement the counseling program administered by the high school. Individual educational guidance for seniors and juniors will be provided on College Day by college and university representatives who, through training and experience, are qualified to provide valuable counseling service to high school students.

The college representatives are objective in advising students concerning the school best suited to their needs. Should a college representative find that his school does not meet the needs of the student being interviewed, he will recommend that the student consider one or more other colleges which would more nearly meet the needs of the student.

IN PREPARATION for College Day the high school has carried out the following projects:

1. The senior and junior English classes are studying a unit on "Selecting a College or Trade School."

2. A section of the high school library has been reserved for catalogs and information from colleges to be represented, and for books and pamphlets on the selection of a college.

3. Each student has been asked to indicate what college representative he would like to interview.

Parents of seniors are urged to attend this program and interview the representatives to assist their sons and daughters in selecting the right college. Some of the college representatives have expressed a desire to meet the parents of the prospective college student.

Remodel police quarters for radio installation

Work began this week on remodeling of Arlington Heights police headquarters preparatory to the installation of its own radio station later this month. All police sergeants have qualified as radio operators and station WBNQ, will go on the air directly from the municipal building before the first of the year.

It will have an ultra high frequency wave length with a radius of ten miles. Service will be car to car, car to station, station to car and by the pressing of a button will give direct contact with the state and county highway departments.

If Palatine and Mt. Prospect request the service, it can be extended to those two towns, which would give them the same coverage as Arlington without the expense of installing a central station and manning it 24 hours a day.

H. A. Kincaid, Palatine veteran school man dies suddenly

Harrison A. Kincaid, lifetime teacher in Palatine and Chicago high schools, and who was president of Palatine high school board of education nine years, died suddenly Friday evening at his home at 303 North Hale St., Palatine. Funeral services were held at the Palatine Methodist church Monday afternoon. The Reverends Bloomquist of Rockford and Fetz, of Palatine officiated. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. Kincaid was active in some branch of Palatine civic work ever since he came to Palatine. Twenty-five years ago he introduced athletics into the Palatine high school when it had no gymnasium. He influenced many of his pupils to attend Knox College, his alma mater. His work upon the growing boys in Palatine over a period of a quarter of a century is recognized in this issue by Gerald McElroy in "Mac Says" on the sport page and by T. C. Hart in "Tales of the Street."

Christmas Seal Sunday observance this week

The message of the Christmas Seal — that the eradication of tuberculosis is a community matter in which everyone may take part — will be spread on a wider scale throughout Cook county next week.

Christmas Seal Sunday will be observed December 7 in churches of all denominations, pastors will herald the 41st annual Seal sale, which opened November 24 and continues through Christmas, and will display Seal posters in the churches. Announcement of the Sunday observance by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county, which directs the sale, stated:

"Lasting world peace is our hope and prayer for the future. Good health is important as an aid to the perpetuation of a lasting peace, and Christmas Seals play a part in this effort."

Defective wiring blamed for bad fire

Arlington Heights fire department had to use a quantity of water to extinguish a 9:15 a. m. blaze Nov. 25 at 124 S. State rd., owned by Chas. L. Vogel. The fire started in the upper flat, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Pomplum, who are both employed. Smoke was noticed by Mrs. Frank Saverthal, who called the department.

Salamander starts blaze

A salamander in a home under construction in the 700 block of Harvard road, Sherwood, caused a fire early Thanksgiving morning. The fire department extinguished the blaze; loss $200.

Five members of Arlington Heights high school faculty spent part of their Thanksgiving vacation attending educational meetings. A. Kulieke and Nelson F. Lowry attended the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Jean Nelson and Hazel Beverly attended three day sessions of the American Education Fellowship at Stevens hotel. Hazel M. Faulkner attended the Saturday meeting of Chicago Area Business Educators.

JOHN MEYN, Mt. Prospect, pioneer blacksmith, who died Tuesday, Dec. 2, 1947, built the first residence in that town.

John Meyn, pioneer Mt. Prospect resident, dies after short illness

John Meyn, who built the first residence in the village of Mt. Prospect, died Tuesday evening after a few days illness. He would have celebrated his 85th birthday Jan. 7, 1948.

Funeral services will be held at St. Paul Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Surviving are seven children, Herman F., William, Mrs. Elsie Busse, Mrs. Christine Hodges, Mt. Prospect; John Jr., Mrs. Bertha Schulenburg, Arlington Heights and Mrs. Laura Straus, Island Lake.

Mr. Meyn learned the trade of a blacksmith in Germany. He came to America when 19 years old and answering an advertisement, came to Arlington Heights where he worked with Messrs. Flentie and Flemming. He was prevailed upon to open up his own shop in Mt. Prospect by Mr. Moehling, who built a shop for him. Two years later Mr. Meyn built a house, the first residence in the town, a building which is at present opposite the Busse garage.

Remains will be resting at Lauterburg and Oehler's Arlington Heights chapel after Friday noon.

'Black market thriving in France,' says florist

The story that Mr. and Mrs. Martin Goerger, Elk Grove, have brought back home from a visit to the country of their birth, Alsace Lorraine, is not very much different than that given to the readers of this paper last week in an interview with John Randag who has returned from Holland, his birthplace.

The Goergers were accompanied by the brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Goerger, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Foeller, of Green Bay. They left Arlington Heights May 14 and after visiting scenic places in Washington and New York, sailed on the freighter, "Shooting Star" May 24, which carried only 11 passengers. This ship was selected because they were unable to secure passage on regular passenger ships. They returned home six months later, November 14.

Poor English food

In place of feeling sorry for the people of France, the visitors from Arlington, give their sympathy to England. They were in London three days, but after one experience in a London eating house, patronized by the white collar workers, they ate the rest of their meals on shipboard. The only thing that was served in the restaurant was gravy soup and cornish paste. One spoonful of the soup was enough and three spoonfuls of the paste emitted such an odor that the party repaired to a pub and a drink of ale was not sufficient to rid them of the taste of the food.

The visitors from America are not accustomed to taking a back seat because of their nationality, but that is what happened to the "Shooting Star," when it was to wait several hours in the Thames esquary while British ships were allowed to proceed.

Three months too long

When the Goergers left home they looked forward to six months in Europe. They were ready to come home in three. The internal situation was so bad that they could do little traveling. They were unable to make good their promise to John Randag to visit him in Holland and during the last three weeks of their stay, they were on pins and needles fearing they might have to stay in Alsace Lorraine, or walk to the seaport to board their boat.

They were fortunate in securing passage for home on the America. Fellow passengers were Curley Brooks and other senators and congressmen who were returning after an official inspection of European conditions.

The Goergers had some delightful trips. With the use of the auto of Mr. Goerger's brother, they visited the Vosges mountains and the Pyrenes.

When the French railroad strike stranded them at Antwerp, Belgium, a taxi was hired for $300 to take the four 300 miles at Strasbourg, the home of Mr. Goerger's brother, who is also in the florist business.

Cook County Herald wins praises in Alsace Lorraine

The people of Alsace Lorraine can not understand how a newspaper like the Cook County Herald can be published in a town of 7,000 inhabitants.

Martin Goerger had arranged with Paddock Publications prior to his departure to Europe for the mailing of the Cook County Herald.

The size of the average paper in France is less than four pages of the Chicago Times size. The average issue of the Herald is over ten times greater.

The Herald was received regularly by Mr. Goerger and much interest was displayed in it by those who had an opportunity to see it.

Mr. Goerger was on a vacation, but kept in touch with his business by the regular receipt of the Florist Review.

Heavy fines await speeders in school zones, says judge

Arlington Heights police department is making a special effort to patrol school zones during the period that pupils are on their way to and from school.

There have been some narrow escapes from fatal accidents, especially on south State road where the pavement is fifty feet wide.

Judge Neuman has offered to cooperate in the safety drive and promises that maximum fines will be inflicted. The speed in school zones is 20 miles an hour.

Chief Skoog told a reporter Tuesday that local residents are the greatest violators. In reply to an appeal from a Scarsdale mother for protective action, he said, "If I arrest every traffic violator a lot of our residents will be paying fines."

John Randag tells Lions about Holland

Any Lions Club member that failed to attend the Tuesday meeting missed an enjoyable evening. After the routine dinner and business meeting, the club was privileged to hear Lion John Randag give an account of his recent trip to Holland.

His talk was very interesting and well received by his audience. Questions were also asked by the members. Lion Randag closed by showing moving pictures he had taken during his visit in Holland.

Womanless Wedding at Palatine Thursday

The Womanless Wedding sponsored by Palatine Lions club will make its last appearance at the Palatine high school auditorium this Thursday evening. The admission is $1.00. The same production was given in Arlington Heights a year ago.

Magician to appear at Arlington high Tuesday, Dec. 9

Orenda, The Magician, who is to present his two hour "Adventures in Mystery" show at Arlington Heights High School Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. on Tuesday, December 9, under the sponsorship of the high school band, has spent a great deal of time and money developing the audience participation feature of his show.

Orenda's idea is to draw the entire audience into the show. To do this he features animal tricks for younger children, escapes and comedy tricks for high school students, and mind-reading and mental mysteries for the adults in the audience. Orenda points out, however, that while each trick does appeal to some special group, it must also entertain the entire audience. This requirement has made it necessary for him to spend years developing each trick in the show and new tricks are rehearsed for many months before they reach Orenda's strict standards.

Tickets for Adventures in Mystery may be purchased from members of the high school band and through the schools.

Oil price increase almost certain

Users of coal are complaining about the advance in ton prices of that fuel. Indications are that users of fuel oil and motorists also have to dig deeper into their pockets to keep their homes warm and to keep their cars running.

One of the largest purchasers of crude oil is offering an increase of 50c a barrel to oil producers. This is almost certain to mean that other oil companies will meet the price and will pass on to users that increase.

In addition to these rumors, the gas stations may have to ration their customers. This is bad news to come at the Christmas season. Local oil men are as displeased over the situation as their customers.

College Day Dec. 11 for juniors and seniors

Arlington Heights Township high school will sponsor a College Day Thursday, December 11, in the high school cafeteria from 9:00 to 11:30 a. m. This is the second College Day to be held in Arlington Heights for the students of this school.

Invitations have been extended to representatives of more than 60 midwest colleges, universities, business colleges and trade schools. The representatives invited were those from schools requested by the students.

THE COLLEGE DAY program is designed to supplement the counseling program administered by the high school. Individual educational guidance for seniors and juniors will be provided on College Day by college and university representatives who, through training and experience, are qualified to provide valuable counseling service to high school students.

The college representatives are objective in advising students concerning the school best suited to their needs. Should a college representative find that his school does not meet the needs of the student being interviewed, he will recommend that the student consider one or more other colleges which would more nearly meet the needs of the student.

IN PREPARATION for College Day the high school has carried out the following projects:

1. The senior and junior English classes are studying a unit on "Selecting a College or Trade School."

2. A section of the high school library has been reserved for catalogs and information from colleges to be represented, and for books and pamphlets on the selection of a college.

3. Each student has been asked to indicate what college representative he would like to interview.

Parents of seniors are urged to attend this program and interview the representatives to assist their sons and daughters in selecting the right college. Some of the college representatives have expressed a desire to meet the parents of the prospective college student.

The next time some one boasts that he has not seen a doctor in five or ten years, look at him a little sadly — for he is to be pitied!

The changes that may occur in the body in that length of time could be a serious threat to continued good health. For it is possible that injury or growth may be present for long periods without causing great pain.

The person who consults a physician regularly for a complete check-up does not expose himself to such dangers.

Medication is often important in checking illness, secure the best drugs by choosing a competent pharmacist.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.
Wednesday evening meetings are held at 8:00 o'clock and include testimonies of healing.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 30, was:

"ANCIENT AND MODERN NECROMANCY, ALIAS MESMERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DENOUNCED"

The Golden Text was:

"Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord" (Jer. 29: 8, 9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon the following were from the Bible:

"Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God, but he that doeth evil hath not seen God" (III John 1: 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Christian Science goes to the bottom of mental action, and reveals the theodicy which indicates the rightness of all divine action, as the emanation of divine Mind, and the consequent wrongness of the opposite so-called action, — evil, occultism, necromancy, mesmerism, animal magnetism, hypnotism . . . Animal magnetism has no scientific foundation, for God governs all that is real, harmonious, and eternal, and His power is neither animal nor human . . . The truths of immortal Mind sustain man, and they annihilate the fables of mortal mind, whose flimsy and gaudy pretensions, like silly moths, singe their own wings and fall into dust" (pp. 104, 102, 103).

You KNOW this isn't safe . . .

And neither is defective wiring!

YOU wouldn't think of giving a child a loaded gun for a plaything. But you may have electrical appliances in your home that are equally dangerous. You can't always see the defective wiring in lamps, toasters, irons, or grills—the danger may lie in faulty inside wiring.

Be sure that appliances you buy are top quality. Have a qualified electrician check the appliances and electric cords in your home today. When you see a frayed extension cord—discard it and replace it with a new one of good quality. Watch for broken sockets and wall plugs. Have an electrician inspect your appliances—be on the alert yourself—and be safe!

Physical Examinations

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Drug Co.

The next time some one boasts that he has not seen a doctor in five or ten years, look at him a little sadly — for he is to be pitied!

The changes that may occur in the body in that length of time could be a serious threat to continued good health. For it is possible that injury or growth may be present for long periods without causing great pain.

The person who consults a physician regularly for a complete check-up does not expose himself to such dangers.

Medication is often important in checking illness, secure the best drugs by choosing a competent pharmacist.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 30, was:

"ANCIENT AND MODERN NECROMANCY, ALIAS MESMERISM AND HYPNOTISM, DENOUNCED"

The Golden Text was:

"Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord" (Jer. 29: 8, 9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon the following were from the Bible:

"Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God, but he that doeth evil hath not seeh God" (III John 1: 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Christian Science goes to the bottom of mental action, and reveals the theodicy which indicates the rightness of all divine action, as the emanation of divine Mind, and the consequent wrongness of the opposite so-called action, — evil, occultism, necromancy, mesmerism, animal magnetism, hypnotism . . . Animal magnetism has no scientific foundation, for God governs all that is real, harmonious, and eternal, and His power is neither animal nor human . . . The truths of immortal Mind sustain man, and they annihilate the fables of mortal mind, whose flimsy and gaudy pretensions, like silly moths, singe their own wings and fall into dust" (pp. 104, 102, 103).

You KNOW this isn't safe . . .

And neither is defective wiring!

YOU wouldn't think of giving a child a loaded gun for a plaything. But you may have electrical appliances in your home that are equally dangerous. You can't always see the defective wiring in lamps, toasters, irons, or grills—the danger may lie in faulty inside wiring.

Be sure that appliances you buy are top quality. Have a qualified electrician check the appliances and electric cords in your home today. When you see a frayed extension cord—discard it and replace it with a new one of good quality. Watch for broken sockets and wall plugs. Have an electrician inspect your appliances—be on the alert yourself—and be safe!

Father of Mt. Prospect man named postmaster general

Merit, devoid of politics, can sometimes capture a place high in government service, even a membership in the cabinet of the president of this country. That was demonstrated last week when J. Donaldson, Sr., father of Jesse M. Donaldson, Jr., 23 HiLusi, Mt. Prospect, was appointed postmaster general by President Truman.

WORD OF THE appointment came as a complete surprise to his son, who learned when he telephoned his congratulations to his father, that his dad was equally surprised.

Mr. Donaldson, Sr., was 1st assistant postmaster general at the time of his appointment, having previously served as 2nd assistant and chief postoffice inspector.

He got his first job as a postal clerk in Hanson, Ill., in 1909. This is the first time that a letter carrier has risen to the very top.

J. M. Donaldson, Jr., has no eyes on his father's job, but has spent twelve years in the mail service. He is now asst. postoffice inspector of Chicago division. Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson have resided in Mt. Prospect three months.

Aluminum owl shoos starlings from their roosts

Tow sportsmen from Decatur have really got something. An aluminum owl that scares away starlings. It works like a charm. The state capitol at Springfield is just learning how effective these birds are. Placed in the trees and on the capitol building they have practically eliminated these annoying pests from their root in trees and on the building. Many other citie have found that the aluminum owl are guarantees that its citizens can safely walk along downtown buildings or under park trees without fear of coming out with a not so beautiful white spotted hat and overcoat.

These two-faced owls with their luminous eyes have also been found to have another good use. Crows go nuts when they see them. The crow shooter equipped with an owl had better take along plenty of shields, for the crows will really come down to fight.

NOW THAT the bird season is nearly over, the shooter who wants to keep old betsy working can get fine sport shooting crows and starlings. One fine feature of this sport is you don't have to take 'em home and clean 'em. Every farmer is a friend of the crow shooter.

Sportsmen are urged to be sure and send in any bands found on pheasants or ducks. Pheasant bands should be sent to the Department of Conservation Springfield, Illinois, while duck bands should be sent to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Servire, Washington, D. C.

Children Need Glasses

About 11 per cent of all children tested in first grade are in need of glasses. The percentage increases to 36 per cent by time children reach ten years of age. It has also been found that of school children making normal progress, 15 per cent have inefficient vision, and of those making unsatisfactory progress, 85 per cent have inefficient vision. A recent government survey indicates that myopia increases about 600 per cent between the first and fifth grades.

SCHOOL DAYS — By DWIG

the black market is difficult throughout France. There is little milk, cream or coffee available, although to the travelers there appeared to be a great many herds of cattle in Normandy. Only children under 13 years and adults over 70 years are allowed any milk. The ownership of ration stamps does not always enable the holder to make purchases. The supply of ration food is two months behind the valuation date of the stamps. A lot of wheat was grown this year, but the government took most of it. Under rationing a quarter a pound of butter is allowed a person per month. Beef is scarce and there is little soap.

Some of the food imported from the French colonies, such as rice is spoiled before it reaches the consumer.

In the black market eggs are $2.50 a dozen, Swiss cheese $1.50 to $2.00 a lb.; butter $3.00, pork $1.80. Two trips were taken to Switzerland to partake of some good meals. On a trip to Germany, many of the stores were found entirely empty.

Black market everywhere

In the opinion of Mrs. Goerger the women of France are much more lenient than Americans. "Just imagine," says Mrs. Goerger, "what would happen in Arlington Heights, if a store which claimed to be unable to supply food on which ration stamps are required, while on an adjoining counter the article was offered for sale at a black market price. American women would not stand for it."

Autos cost real money

"I know now why there are not enough new automobiles in America," Mr. Goerger told the reporter. "A Kaiser-Frazier will bring $4,800 in France, a Dodge $8,800, while a piece of junk will sell between $2,000 and $3,000. Gasoline is $4.00 a gallon on the black market. No gas could be purchased after October 1.

"A friend paid $2,700 for a second hand car, the rubber of which only lasts two weeks.

"Coal quotas are half of what they were a year ago and rumor has it that they will be again cut in two next year. Only one room is heated.

"In Alsace Lorraine, only a few houses in many of the towns escaped the bombing. In place of repairing the homes least damaged, the government will rebuild destroyed homes and not repair the holes in the roofs of homes that could easily be made more habitable. In many towns not a single home was left standing."

Opposes Marshall plan

Mr. Goerger saw so much wasted effort and money that he is opposed to the Marshall Plan unless America can supervise its operation. France first needs a stable government. The people of Alsace Lorraine would like an independent government, like Luxemburg, and in the opinion of Mr. Goerger, could work out their own salvation if left alone.

Paris is still a beautiful city. There are no street car lines, all subways. The hotels are magnificent and good meals can be secured by those who are able to pay for them.

Immigration authorities in countries visited kept as close a watch on the money of the visitors as on their goods. American money could be taken anywhere, but money of individual countries had to be left in that country. Martin was not in the habit of having a government official check his pocketbook, and he admits that he found ways to hide some of his funds. He was required to carry a pass book in which was listed all exchange of funds.

Lime Essential

Lime is essential on acid soils for proper growth of many crop and pasture plants. To promote this desired growth, sufficient lime should be applied to change the acid condition to a near neutral point. Under most conditions in the upland area the addition of lime to the soil also provides calcium for plant growth. Commercial fertilizer, incorporated with the soil management practices previously mentioned, is essential for continued high crop production. Every crop harvested for grain, forage or other use removes plant food from the soil. Soils under continuous cropping systems, coupled with erosion, lose their plant nutrients faster than they can be replaced by nature.

Girl Scout board checks results of finance drive

At a recent meeting the board of the Arlington Heights Girl Scout Council heard a report from finance chairman, Albert Kehe, on the results of the recently conducted finance drive. Mr. Kehe reported that although results have been good to date, there are still a number of areas in the community which have not yet been canvassed.

The board instructed the finance committee to make every effort to complete the canvass as soon as possible. Volunteer workers to contact remaining families for their contributions are being sought.

The Girl Scout Council has an annual budget of $2,000, which is dependent upon the support given to the financial drive by the community. All of the money collected is kept within the community to make a good program available, to carry out training plans and to promote new troops. The budget in other words, is the program of the local council reduced to dollars and cents, the money needed to do the Girl Scout work as planned by the local council.

Lower Rates Sought

A movement has been started recently to obtain lower fire insurance premium rates for structures which are insulated with naturally noncombustible material.

Advent Vespers Thursday evening

The first of a series of Advent Vespers will be held tonight at the Field House by Faith English Lutheran church. The Sunday School will sing Philip Doddridge's well-known Christmas hymn, "Hark the glad sound! The Savior comes," and favorite Advent and Christmas carols will be sung by the congregation. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come at 8 o'clock.

Natural Gas Storage

Two members of the Northwestern university's faculty have developed a new method for storing natural gas in liquid form that will cut storage space by almost 99 per cent. Under the method, which uses refrigeration, 800 cubic feet of natural gas may be contained in one cubic foot of storage space.

Father of Mt. Prospect man named postmaster general

Merit, devoid of politics, can sometimes capture a place high in government service, even a membership in the cabinet of the president of this country. That was demonstrated last week when J. Donaldson, Sr., father of Jesse M. Donaldson, Jr., 23 HiLusi, Mt. Prospect, was appointed postmaster general by President Truman.

WORD OF THE appointment came as a complete surprise to his son, who learned when he telephoned his congratulations to his father, that his dad was equally surprised.

Mr. Donaldson, Sr., was 1st assistant postmaster general at the time of his appointment, having previously served as 2nd assistant and chief postoffice inspector.

He got his first job as a postal clerk in Hanson, Ill., in 1909. This is the first time that a letter carrier has risen to the very top.

J. M. Donaldson, Jr., has no eyes on his father's job, but has spent twelve years in the mail service. He is now asst. postoffice inspector of Chicago division. Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson have resided in Mt. Prospect three months.

Aluminum owl shoos starlings from their roosts

Tow sportsmen from Decatur have really got something. An aluminum owl that scares away starlings. It works like a charm. The state capitol at Springfield is just learning how effective these birds are. Placed in the trees and on the capitol building they have practically eliminated these annoying pests from their roost in trees and on the building. Many other citie have found that the aluminum owl are guarantees that its citizens can safely walk along downtown buildings or under park trees without fear of coming out with a not so beautiful white spotted hat and overcoat.

These two-faced owls with their luminous eyes have also been found to have another good use. Crows go nuts when they see them. The crow shooter equipped with an owl had better take along plenty of shields, for the crows will really come down to fight.

NOW THAT the bird season is nearly over, the shooter who wants to keep old betsy working can get fine sport shooting crows and starlings. One fine feature of this sport is you don't have to take 'em home and clean 'em. Every farmer is a friend of the crow shooter.

Sportsmen are urged to be sure and send in any bands found on pheasants or ducks. Pheasant bands should be sent to the Department of Conservation Springfield, Illinois, while duck bands should be sent to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Servire, Washington, D. C.

Children Need Glasses

About 11 per cent of all children tested in first grade are in need of glasses. The percentage increases to 36 per cent by time children reach ten years of age. It has also been found that of school children making normal progress, 15 per cent have inefficient vision, and of those making unsatisfactory progress, 85 per cent have inefficient vision. A recent government survey indicates that myopia increases about 600 per cent between the first and fifth grades.

SCHOOL DAYS — By DWIG

the black market is difficult throughout France. There is little milk, cream or coffee available, although to the travelers there appeared to be a great many herds of cattle in Normandy. Only children under 13 years and adults over 70 years are allowed any milk. The ownership of ration stamps does not always enable the holder to make purchases. The supply of ration food is two months behind the valuation date of the stamps. A lot of wheat was grown this year, but the government took most of it. Under rationing a quarter a pound of butter is allowed a person per month. Beef is scarce and there is little soap.

Some of the food imported from the French colonies, such as rice is spoiled before it reaches the consumer.

In the black market eggs are $2.50 a dozen, Swiss cheese $1.50 to $2.00 a lb.; butter $3.00, pork $1.80. Two trips were taken to Switzerland to partake of some good meals. On a trip to Germany, many of the stores were found entirely empty.

Black market everywhere

In the opinion of Mrs. Goerger the women of France are much more lenient than Americans. "Just imagine," says Mrs. Goerger, "what would happen in Arlington Heights, if a store which claimed to be unable to supply food on which ration stamps are required, while on an adjoining counter the article was offered for sale at a black market price. American women would not stand for it."

Autos cost real money

"I know now why there are not enough new automobiles in America," Mr. Goerger told the reporter. "A Kaiser-Frazier will bring $4,800 in France, a Dodge $8,800, while a piece of junk will sell between $2,000 and $3,000. Gasoline is $4.00 a gallon on the black market. No gas could be purchased after October 1.

"A friend paid $2,700 for a second hand car, the rubber of which only lasts two weeks.

"Coal quotas are half of what they were a year ago and rumor has it that they will be again cut in two next year. Only one room is heated.

"In Alsace Lorraine, only a few houses in many of the towns escaped the bombing. In place of repairing the homes least damaged, the government will rebuild destroyed homes and not repair the holes in the roofs of homes that could easily be made more habitable. In many towns not a single home was left standing."

Opposes Marshall plan

Mr. Goerger saw so much wasted effort and money that he is opposed to the Marshall Plan unless America can supervise its operation. France first needs a stable government. The people of Alsace Lorraine would like an independent government, like Luxemburg, and in the opinion of Mr. Goerger, could work out their own salvation if left alone.

Paris is still a beautiful city. There are no street car lines, all subways. The hotels are magnificent and good meals can be secured by those who are able to pay for them.

Immigration authorities in countries visited kept as close a watch on the money of the visitors as on their goods. American money could be taken anywhere, but money of individual countries had to be left in that country. Martin was not in the habit of having a government official check his pocketbook, and he admits that he found ways to hide some of his funds. He was required to carry a pass book in which was listed all exchange of funds.

Lime Essential

Lime is essential on acid soils for proper growth of many crop and pasture plants. To promote this desired growth, sufficient lime should be applied to change the acid condition to a near neutral point. Under most conditions in the upland area the addition of lime to the soil also provides calcium for plant growth. Commercial fertilizer, incorporated with the soil management practices previously mentioned, is essential for continued high crop production. Every crop harvested for grain, forage or other use removes plant food from the soil. Soils under continuous cropping systems, coupled with erosion, lose their plant nutrients faster than they can be replaced by nature.

Girl Scout board checks results of finance drive

At a recent meeting the board of the Arlington Heights Girl Scout Council heard a report from finance chairman, Albert Kehe, on the results of the recently conducted finance drive. Mr. Kehe reported that although results have been good to date, there are still a number of areas in the community which have not yet been canvassed.

The board instructed the finance committee to make every effort to complete the canvass as soon as possible. Volunteer workers to contact remaining families for their contributions are being sought.

The Girl Scout Council has an annual budget of $2,000, which is dependent upon the support given to the financial drive by the community. All of the money collected is kept within the community to make a good program available, to carry out training plans and to promote new troops. The budget in other words, is the program of the local council reduced to dollars and cents, the money needed to do the Girl Scout work as planned by the local council.

Lower Rates Sought

A movement has been started recently to obtain lower fire insurance premium rates for structures which are insulated with naturally noncombustible materlal.

According to J. D. Bryson, vocational agriculture teacher, the grain judgers from the ag. one class also placed higher than should be expected for their first contest by defeating eleven other schools. The team was made up of Merlin Wille, Donald Linneman and Franklin Kile.

Arlington Camera club picks new slate of officers

At the last meeting of the Arlington Heights Camera Club new permanent officers were elected to replace the temporary officers who had been in office since the inception of the club early last summer.

The members elected Lewis G. Green of Prospect Heights as the first permanent president of the club. Sam Wood of Arlington Heights will lend Green his assistance in the capacity of vice president. All other positions will be appointive and rotated throughout the membership.

CHANGES have already been scheduled by the club to provide more educational features for their members. The first Wednesday in each month will be devoted to instructive lectures on all photographic subjects and to open print criticism of any prints brought to the club for such purposes by the members. The third Wednesday in each month will be for the purpose of viewing and criticizing prints prepared by members on specific photographic assignments.

This new policy should prove beneficial to the newer, less experienced members and the club takes this opportunity to welcome persons in this community to become members of the Camera Club regardless of their photographic knowledge.

At the same time that the club welcomes Mitchel Metzarek and Stuart Paddock as new members, they send their sincere thanks and appreciation for his past efforts to Taylor Lewis, retiring temporary president, who left Arlington Heights last week to make his new home in San Francisco, Calif.

F. F. A. judging teams make high rating

Competing with experienced teams twenty-three other schools at the sectional poultry and grain judging contest held recently at the Curtiss Candy farm near Cary, the "greenhands" from the Arlington Hgts. Township high school showed surprising ability.

In their first contest the poultry judging team, made up of Melvin Behn, Wallace Krueger, and Gordon Stade, placed second. With 120 individuals judging the birds, Wallace Krueger placed third, and Melvin Behn was sixth, with Gordon Stade close behind, which resulted in the high team score.

According to J. D. Bryson, vocational agriculture teacher, the grain judgers from the ag. one class also placed higher than should be expected for their first contest by defeating eleven other schools. The team was made up of Merlin Wille, Donald Linneman and Franklin Kile.

Arlington Camera club picks new slate of officers

At the last meeting of the Arlington Heights Camera Club new permanent officers were elected to replace the temporary officers who had been in office since the inception of the club early last summer.

The members elected Lewis G. Green of Prospect Heights as the first permanent president of the club. Sam Wood of Arlington Heights will lend Green his assistance in the capacity of vice president. All other positions will be appointive and rotated throughout the membership.

CHANGES have already been scheduled by the club to provide more educational features for their members. The first Wednesday in each month will be devoted to instructive lectures on all photographic subjects and to open print criticism of any prints brought to the club for such purposes by the members. The third Wednesday in each month will be for the purpose of viewing and criticizing prints prepared by members on specific photographic assignments.

This new policy should prove beneficial to the newer, less experienced members and the club takes this opportunity to welcome persons in this community to become members of the Camera Club regardless of their photographic knowledge.

At the same time that the club welcomes Mitchel Metzarek and Stuart Paddock as new members, they send their sincere thanks and appreciation for his past efforts to Taylor Lewis, retiring temporary president, who left Arlington Heights last week to make his new home in San Francisco, Calif.

Jim Wax, Dick Morrow to direct district scouts

by ARNOLD HATCH

Eighteen members of N. W. Suburban Council Executive Board, officers and members of Blackhawk Scout District met at North school, Arlington Heights, Monday evening, November 24, to elect scout district officers for the year 1948 and dispose of routine business.

Karl Von Kampen, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the names of Jim Wax of Mt. Prospect and Richard Morrow of Arlington Heights as nominees, who were unanimously elected as district chairman and vice chairman, respectively.

IN ORDER to carry on the district duties effectively more nominations were made and these six members at large were elected without any opposition: Ben Cochrane and R. Michalski of Arlington Heights; Karl Von Kampen and Howard Williams of Mt. Prospect; R. H. Boroughf and Fred Hudson of Prospect Heights.

Bob Blackburn introduced Willard McDowell of Prospect Heights as the new district commissioner. "Mac" is an Eagle scout and comes to Blackhawk District with many years of scouting experience to his credit and eagerly anticipates meeting all members of Blackhawk district as soon as possible.

A rising vote of thanks was given in appreciation to Bob Blackburn and the retiring officers for the splendid work done during their term of office.

IT WAS NOT an easy job to pick a slate of officers that met with everyone's approval so a vote of thanks was extended to the nominating committee members who are Karl Von Kampen, chairman, Bob Blackburn, Geo. Sheppard, Vern Sturm and Jim Wax.

Jim Wax expressed his pleasure and satisfaction at having these district officers retain their present positions:

R. E. Clabaugh, advancement chairman; Art Blaschye, finance chairman; Richard Morrow, organization and extension chairman, and Art Raven, health and safety chairman.

Several matters of interest discussed, were the "double track" organization, finances, court of honor programs, parent lack of interest and various committee reports were heard.

AMONG those participating in the annual meeting and enjoying the delicious refreshments were Stan Huntington, scout executive; Bob Blackburn, council vice president; R. E. Clabaugh, George Sheppard and Oscar Kurtz, executive board members; Jim Wax, district chairman; Richard Morrow, district vice chairman; Willard McDowell, district commissioner; Art Blaschke, district finance chairman; Karl Von Kampen, troop 23 chairman; Vern Sturm, troop 32 chairman; B. L. Cochrane, troop 32 committeeman; Bob Pittman, troop 36 committeeman; H. McKee, assistant scoutmaster troop 36; Dick Michalski, chairman Pack 232; V. H. Bedingfield, cubmaster Pack 232; Art Raven, Cubmaster pack 236; Arnold Hatch, executive board member.

Pepper Keeps Moths Away

In France and Holland coarse ground pepper is dusted into furs and expensive carpets as a moth preventive, and is used in preference to all new sprays and repellents. The word pep—meaning energy, vim and sprightliness—comes from the exhilarating quality of pepper in foods.

New slate takes office as OES has installation at Arlington Heights

One of the most beautiful and impressive occasions took place Saturday evening, November 29 at the Presbyterian hall, when the 1948 officers of Arlington Heights Chapter No. 992, Order of the Eastern Star were installed.

The leaders for the year are Bessie V. Geisel, Worthy Matron and Dr. Paul C. Geisel, Worthy Patron.

Other officers include:

Loretta Kring, Associate Matron; Howard Voss, Associate Patron; Florence Luckner, Secretary; Harold Hastings, Treasurer; Dorothy Voss, Conductress; Veva Allen, Associate Conductress; Gertrude Milligan, Chaplain; Frieda Podzimek, Marshal; Minnie Barnum, Organist.

Jessie Hastings, Adah: Katheryn Newberg, Ruth; Della Crane, Esther; Ruth Lloyd, Martha; Marie Bolte, Electa; Etta Reschke, Warder; Park Allen, Sentinel.

Minda Bewberg, Soloist; Burkitt Davis, Color Bearer; Maybelle C. Jasper, Correspondent; Myrtle L. Frey, Instructress.

THE RETIRING Worthy Matron, Emily Schumacher, extended an official greeting and introduced the Past Matrons and Past Patrons, members of the local chapter, Agnes Olson, Inez Sharp, Alma Tesch, Blanche Dick, Myrtle Frey, Gertrude Milligan, Florence Luckner, Celia Hausam, Grace Turck and Maybelle Jasper. William Milligan, Elmer Crane, Harold Hastings, George Volz and Irving Tesch.

The Installing Officers were then invited into the chapter room. Their escorts included William Milligan who presented Gertrude Milligan member of Special Endowment Committee of the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, Installing Officer, Harold Hastings, who presented Florence Luckner, Installing Chaplain, George K. Volz who presented Maybelle C. Jasper, Installing Marshal. Minnie Barnum served as Organist and Minda Newberg as Soloist, both members of the local chapter.

An air of beauty and solemnity prevailed in the room. The traditional white gowns worn by the officers blended with the white satin altar cloth, floor runners and chair covers, together with the palms and floral decorations was a simple but perfect setting for the ceremony. The installation ceremonies were very impressively rendered and elicited the closest attention from beginning to end. The organist and soloist furnished appropriate music throughout the ceremony and added much to the evening.

SEVERAL members of Van Rtnsseler Lodge of Perfection Valley of Chicago surprised the Worthy Patron, Paul Geisel by serving as an escort in his honor. They presented him and his good wife, the Worthy Matron, with a lovely basket of flowers extending congratulations and good wishes for the coming year, the presentation speech being made by Elmer Crane.

Another very pleasant surprise was the presentation of a gift from Arlington Heights Lodge No. 1162 A. F. & A. M. by Wellington O. Kelsey the Worshipful Master to the newly installed matron and patron. Mr. Kelsey was introduced to the assembly by the Worthy Patron expressing his desire to be of service to the order.

A gavel was given to the Worthy Matron, Bessie Geisel, a gift from her officers, soloist, color bearer, correspondent and instructress.

Imer Crane and Irving Tesch, Past Patron's served as ushers. Myrtle Frey as mistress of ceremonies and a courtesy committee consisting of Blanche Dick, Agnes Olson, Past Matrons and Nettie Rezner a member of the local chapter. Through the efforts of these members all arrangements were carefully carried out.

A GIFT in the form of a past matron's jewel is given to the retiring Worthy Matron and Patron and Emily Schumacher chose to receive hers from the hands of her daughter, Winifred Jones who served as her Chaplain during the past year. Park Allen, retiring Worthy Patron was presented with his gift by William Milligan. Words of commendation were extended to each of them on a successful and happy year of service.

The newly installed Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron sincerely expressed their thanks to the members of the Chapter for the high honor conferred upon them and pledged, with their cooperation, to carry on and strive to do their best. The Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron were also pleased to have three daughters present, Ruth Schuldt, Esther Anthonissen and Lois Wilhusen as well as several other members of their family. In spite of the wintry weather, many friends and members of the neighboring chapters were present which was much appreciated.

As has been the custom in the past, the Worthy Matron and Patron were escorted to the altar by the Installing Chaplain and Marshal to place their names in the holy bible.

At the close of the ceremony the officers retired to form a receiving line in the dining room. Under the direction of Alma Ihle and several other members, delicious refreshments were served, the host and hostess being Bessie and Paul Geisel.

Pioneers Tanned Leather

American pioneers knew and practiced the art of tanning leather. To them it was a useful art and a simple one, and very little special equipment was needed for the work. When they killed a buffalo, cow or deer, they used the hide as well as the flesh. On their floors laid rugs made from the skins of wolves and other animals. Methods of curing skins were known to the ancient Egyptians. In China, leather has been found which proved to be more than 3,000 years old.

Jim Wax, Dick Morrow to direct district scouts

by ARNOLD HATCH

Eighteen members of N. W. Suburban Council Executive Board, officers and members of Blackhawk Scout District met at North school, Arlington Heights, Monday evening, November 24, to elect scout district officers for the year 1948 and dispose of routine business.

Karl Von Kampen, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the names of Jim Wax of Mt. Prospect and Richard Morrow of Arlington Heights as nominees, who were unanimously elected as district chairman and vice chairman, respectively.

IN ORDER to carry on the district duties effectively more nominations were made and these six members at large were elected without any opposition: Ben Cochrane and R. Michalski of Arlington Heights; Karl Von Kampen and Howard Williams of Mt. Prospect; R. H. Boroughf and Fred Hudson of Prospect Heights.

Bob Blackburn introduced Willard McDowell of Prospect Heights as the new district commissioner. "Mac" is an Eagle scout and comes to Blackhawk District with many years of scouting experience to his credit and eagerly anticipates meeting all members of Blackhawk district as soon as possible.

A rising vote of thanks was given in appreciation to Bob Blackburn and the retiring officers for the splendid work done during their term of office.

IT WAS NOT an easy job to pick a slate of officers that met with everyone's approval so a vote of thanks was extended to the nominating committee members who are Karl Von Kampen, chairman, Bob Blackburn, Geo. Sheppard, Vern Sturm and Jim Wax.

Jim Wax expressed his pleasure and satisfaction at having these district officers retain their present positions:

R. E. Clabaugh, advancement chairman; Art Blaschye, finance chairman; Richard Morrow, organization and extension chairman, and Art Raven, health and safety chairman.

Several matters of interest discussed, were the "double track" organization, finances, court of honor programs, parent lack of interest and various committee reports were heard.

AMONG those participating in the annual meeting and enjoying the delicious refreshments were Stan Huntington, scout executive; Bob Blackburn, council vice president; R. E. Clabaugh, George Sheppard and Oscar Kurtz, executive board members; Jim Wax, district chairman; Richard Morrow, district vice chairman; Willard McDowell, district commissioner; Art Blaschke, district finance chairman; Karl Von Kampen, troop 23 chairman; Vern Sturm, troop 32 chairman; B. L. Cochrane, troop 32 committeeman; Bob Pittman, troop 36 committeeman; H. McKee, assistant scoutmaster troop 36; Dick Michalski, chairman Pack 232; V. H. Bedingfield, cubmaster Pack 232; Art Raven, Cubmaster pack 236; Arnold Hatch, executive board member.

Pepper Keeps Moths Away

In France and Holland coarse ground pepper is dusted into furs and expensive carpets as a moth preventive, and is used in preference to all new sprays and repellents. The word pep—meaning energy, vim and sprightliness—comes from the exhilarating quality of pepper in foods.

New slate takes office as OES has installation at Arlington Heights

One of the most beautiful and impressive occasions took place Saturday evening, November 29 at the Presbyterian hall, when the 1948 officers of Arlington Heights Chapter No. 992, Order of the Eastern Star were installed.

The leaders for the year are Bessie V. Geisel, Worthy Matron and Dr. Paul C. Geisel, Worthy Patron.

Other officers include:

Loretta Kring, Associate Matron; Howard Voss, Associate Patron; Florence Luckner, Secretary; Harold Hastings, Treasurer; Dorothy Voss, Conductress; Veva Allen, Associate Conductress; Gertrude Milligan, Chaplain; Frieda Podzimek, Marshal; Minnie Barnum, Organist.

Jessie Hastings, Adah: Katheryn Newberg, Ruth; Della Crane, Esther; Ruth Lloyd, Martha; Marie Bolte, Electa; Etta Reschke, Warder; Park Allen, Sentinel.

THE RETIRING Worthy Matron, Emily Schumacher, extended an official greeting and introduced the Past Matrons and Past Patrons, members of the local chapter, Agnes Olson, Inez Sharp, Alma Tesch, Blanche Dick, Myrtle Frey, Gertrude Milligan, Florence Luckner, Celia Hausam, Grace Turck and Maybelle Jasper. William Milligan, Elmer Crane, Harold Hastings, George Volz and Irving Tesch.

The Installing Officers were then invited into the chapter room. Their escorts included William Milligan who presented Gertrude Milligan member of Special Endowment Committee of the Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, Installing Officer, Harold Hastings, who presented Florence Luckner, Installing Chaplain, George K. Volz who presented Maybelle C. Jasper, Installing Marshal. Minnie Barnum served as Organist and Minda Newberg as Soloist, both members of the local chapter.

An air of beauty and solemnity prevailed in the room. The traditional white gowns worn by the officers blended with the white satin altar cloth, floor runners and chair covers, together with the palms and floral decorations was a simple but perfect setting for the ceremony. The installation ceremonies were very impressively rendered and elicited the closest attention from beginning to end. The organist and soloist furnished appropriate music throughout the ceremony and added much to the evening.

SEVERAL members of Van Rtnsseler Lodge of Perfection Valley of Chicago surprised the Worthy Patron, Paul Geisel by serving as an escort in his honor. They presented him and his good wife, the Worthy Matron, with a lovely basket of flowers extending congratulations and good wishes for the coming year, the presentation speech being made by Elmer Crane.

Another very pleasant surprise was the presentation of a gift from Arlington Heights Lodge No. 1162 A. F. & A. M. by Wellington O. Kelsey the Worshipful Master to the newly installed matron and patron. Mr. Kelsey was introduced to the assembly by the Worthy Patron expressing his desire to be of service to the order.

A gavel was given to the Worthy Matron, Bessie Geisel, a gift from her officers, soloist, color bearer, correspondent and instructress.

Imer Crane and Irving Tesch, Past Patron's served as ushers. Myrtle Frey as mistress of ceremonies and a courtesy committee consisting of Blanche Dick, Agnes Olson, Past Matrons and Nettie Rezner a member of the local chapter. Through the efforts of these members all arrangements were carefully carried out.

A GIFT in the form of a past matron's jewel is given to the retiring Worthy Matron and Patron and Emily Schumacher chose to receive hers from the hands of her daughter, Winifred Jones who served as her Chaplain during the past year. Park Allen, retiring Worthy Patron was presented with his gift by William Milligan. Words of commendation were extended to each of them on a successful and happy year of service.

The newly installed Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron sincerely expressed their thanks to the members of the Chapter for the high honor conferred upon them and pledged, with their cooperation, to carry on and strive to do their best. The Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron were also pleased to have three daughters present, Ruth Schuldt, Esther Anthonissen and Lois Wilhusen as well as several other members of their family. In spite of the wintry weather, many friends and members of the neighboring chapters were present which was much appreciated.

As has been the custom in the past, the Worthy Matron and Patron were escorted to the altar by the Installing Chaplain and Marshal to place their names in the holy bible.

At the close of the ceremony the officers retired to form a receiving line in the dining room. Under the direction of Alma Ihle and several other members, delicious refreshments were served, the host and hostess being Bessie and Paul Geisel.

Pioneers Tanned Leather

American pioneers knew and practiced the art of tanning leather. To them it was a useful art and a simple one, and very little special equipment was needed for the work. When they killed a buffalo, cow or deer, they used the hide as well as the flesh. On their floors laid rugs made from the skins of wolves and other animals. Methods of curing skins were known to the ancient Egyptians. In China, leather has been found which proved to be more than 3,000 years old.

Plan 60 more vets' housing at Glenview

To supplement the 120 veteran apartments under development, at the Glenview Naval Air Station, the Cook County Housing Authority, last week received approval from the Illinois State Housing Board to use an additional $82,500 of State housing funds to produce 60 or more veteran dwellings at the Air Station.

The first of the Glenview Apartments were occupied November 1. Additional veterans and their families are moving in as soon as construction is completed.

Of the new units to be converted by the Authority, 24 of them will be apartments similar in design to the first 120 units. To accomodate the other 36 units, which are trailers, the Authority is beginning to work just north of the Glenview Apartments to provide the underground sewer and water improvements, plus overhead wiring and walks.

"In receiving approval on this new development from the State Housing Board, said Ira Bach, Executive Director of the Cook County Housing Authority, we are able to provide living quarters for approximately 200 more persons. In converting the sixth huge H-shape Navy Building, which will contain the extra 24 apartments, our architect, William Benn of Johnck & Ehmann, will follow the same floor plan as the other five buildings, continued Bach. The emphasis in each ofthe apartments has been on comfort and utility of space," he added.

A site large enough to arrange 50 trailers is being laid out just north of the housing project. The seventh and last of the Navy buildings in the Authority's housing area will be turned into a community center, with toilet and laundry facilities for the trailer residents. A maintenance shop and project manager's office will be outfitted on the first floor of the building with a children's nursery and community hall occupying the second floor.

Plan 60 more vets' housing at Glenview

To supplement the 120 veteran apartments under development, at the Glenview Naval Air Station, the Cook County Housing Authority, last week received approval from the Illinois State Housing Board to use an additional $82,500 of State housing funds to produce 60 or more veteran dwellings at the Air Station.

The first of the Glenview Apartments were occupied November 1. Additional veterans and their families are moving in as soon as construction is completed.

Of the new units to be converted by the Authority, 24 of them will be apartments similar in design to the first 120 units. To accomodate the other 36 units, which are trailers, the Authority is beginning to work just north of the Glenview Apartments to provide the underground sewer and water improvements, plus overhead wiring and walks.

"In receiving approval on this new development from the State Housing Board, said Ira Bach, Executive Director of the Cook County Housing Authority, we are able to provide living quarters for approximately 200 more persons. In converting the sixth huge H-shape Navy Building, which will contain the extra 24 apartments, our architect, William Benn of Johnck & Ehmann, will follow the same floor plan as the other five buildings, continued Bach. The emphasis in each ofthe apartments has been on comfort and utility of space," he added.

A site large enough to arrange 50 trailers is being laid out just north of the housing project. The seventh and last of the Navy buildings in the Authority's housing area will be turned into a community center, with toilet and laundry facilities for the trailer residents. A maintenance shop and project manager's office will be outfitted on the first floor of the building with a children's nursery and community hall occupying the second floor.

All candidates for queen at Denison

Denison University students chose these five candidates from which to select their Homecoming Queen at the annual festivities between halves of the Denison-Wooster football game Saturday. In the front row are Elizabeth Harman and Marilyn Miller, both of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. In the second row are Gretchen Scott, Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority, Lois Knaack, Delta Gamma, Arlington Heights and Margaret Collier, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Elinor Bohlin, John Kumler are married

In a simple, quiet ceremony at St. Peter Lutheran church November 22, Miss Elinor Bohlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bohlin of Arlington Heights, was united in holy matrimony to John M. Kumler, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kumler of Chicago. The young couple repeated their vows after Rev. L. V. Stephen to the strains of "The Lord's Prayer," which was rendered by O. A. Kolb, organist.

Miss Bohlin chose to wear a dark beige suit with dark brown accessories, offset by a white orchid corsage, for her wedding attire. Her only attendant was Miss Pearl Miller of Itasca, who, from her wheel chair, gave to the service a touching seriousness and solemnity. Miss Miller wore a gray plaid suit with gray accessories, and had a yellow mum corsage.

The bridegroom had as his best man his cousin, O. W. Wensley of Evanston. The groom wore a dark blue suit and had a white boutonniere, while the best man wore a gray suit and also had a white boutonniere.

Both the bride's and groom's mothers were attired in black dresses and had yellow mum corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held and dinner was served to the relatives and intimate friends of the couple at Simsons on Euclid ave. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. O. T. Wilson, maternal grandmother of the groom; Mrs. E. A. Harrison, the groom's aunt; and Nancy Kumler, his sister, all of Denver, Colo

Mr. and Mrs. Kumler for the present will reside with the bride's parents, taking a delayed honeymoon to Colorado in December and January.

ARLINGTON CAGERS TO OPEN AGAINST NILES FRIDAY NIGHT

Trojans slight favorites over Cardinals here

Locals to Warren Tuesday afternoon

Arlington Heights Cardinals, coached by Gene Bell, open basketball competition for the year this week, Friday night, when the Niles Trojans come to town. This will be the first Northeast conference tilt for the locals, as well as the first game of the season.

According to advance dope, Arlington rates about even with Niles, though the Trojans have at least two games under their belts and are slight favorites. Both squads are picked to rank near the top in the conference race.

WITH THEIR NEW coach, Gene Bell, at the helm, the Cards are hoping to at least equal last year's record of 17 won, 5 lost. They'll have to go some, though, to do just that, as other league squads are vastly improved, while the locals have just two lettermen returning to the cage sport.

Last season the Cards lost twice to Crystal Lake in the conference, split with Palatine, lost to Fisher, Ill., and dropped to Hebron in the regional tournament.

TAKING THE floor Friday night against Niles will be Vic Heimsoth at center, one of the two returning lettermen. He was a forward last year.

Bill Robinson, the other veteran, will be back at his guard position, with Wally Beckman, up from last year's J-Vs, holding down the other back court spot.

Three men rate starting positions on the Heights forward line, with two of them to get the nod Friday. They include Orville Schaeffer, John Shanley and Phil Roche.

OTHERS on the varsity squad and sure to see plenty of action, are: Lew Draper, Chuck Dresser, Phil Theis, Gordon Busse, Lloyd Meyer, Marvin Berschet, Tom Stockdale and Paul Ransdall. Busse is the only sophomore on the team.

Coach George Gibson's junior-varsity five will take the court at 7:15 Friday night, the feature game slated for 8:30. The Junior Cards gained a 6-6 record last year in the conference in copping fourth spot.

TUESDAY'S game at Warren is an afternoon affair for the Cards. Junior-varsity tilt will begin at 3:15, with the headliner slated for 4:45. Local fans planning to attend all of Arlington's games are urged to make note of the time of that game at Gurnee.

Other games slated for this week in the Northeast conference finds Woodstock playing at Leyden in what pre-season dope rates the McHenry county squad the edge, Libertyville at Lake Forest in which the Wildcats should succumb ,and Crystal Lake at Warren which the Lakers should take.

List pairings for McHenry county tourney next week

McHenry county's 28th annual county high school basketball tournament opens in Woodstock December 13 with three games. Nine schools are entered this year.

Here are the pairing for the tournament which will be held at the Blue and White gym:

Game 2—Hebron vs. Huntley at 8:15 p.m.

Game 3—Marengo vs. Crystal Lake at 9:30 p.m.

December 15

Game 4—Winner game one and Woodstock at 7:30 p.m.

Game 5—Richmond vs. McHenry at 9:00 p.m.

December 16

Game 6—Winners of games 4 and 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Game 7—Winners of games two and three at 9:00 p.m.

December 17

Game 8—Winners of games 6 and 7 at 8:15 p.m. (Championship).

The preliminary game of the championship session will be the Junior Varsity teams of the two teams entered in the finals.

Crystal Lake is the defending champion. In fact the Lakers have won the last four tournament titles.

Barrington snows under Northbrook, 64-31

Barrington's sharpshooters really had the range last Friday night as they snowed Northbrook under by a count of 64-31 in the varsity game and 50-13 with the frosh-sophs.

The Bronchos could not miss in the early stages of the varsity game either from the field or free throw line. They ran up a 16-5 margin in the first quarter and increased it to 33-14 at half time. With subs playing much of the second half the scoring pace never slackened. Capt. Pomeroy sank nine from the field and four out of five charity tosses for 22 points. Savely got nine and Hansen seven. Lesch got eight points for Northbrook while Schildgen, their scoring ace, failed to tally a point.

LED BY Armanetti who scored 21 points the Ponies had ..... in their game after a close 5-2 first quarter. Going into the final period Barrington held a 34-6 lead. Barrington used a total of 24 boys in the two games.

Pirates take easy victory over Grayslake

Palatine's varsity team found Grayslake much weaker than expected and won an easy 38-23 victory Saturday night on the home court. Palatine Frosh-Sophs lost 25-21.

Grayslake failed to make a field goal in the first half of the varsity game and the Pirates held an 18-4 lead at the intermission. Coach Stutzman substituted freely in the final quarter. Grayslake outscored Palatine 14-13 in the last quarter.

Dick Steinbrinck scored nine points while McDonald and Klein each had seven. Hitzman scored 10 points for Grayslake.

THE GFAYSLAKE frosh-soph zone defense shut Palatine off from close in shots and the Pirates trailed after the first quarter. The half time score was 8-6 which Grayslake increased to 17-11 in the third period. Led by little Guenther's shooting the Pirates narrowed the count to 25-21 in the last period.

Northbrook on DuPage court after Bisons travel to Antioch

Palatine's Pirates have the toughest week end of basketball of the entire season coming up Friday and Saturday nights. On Friday Barrington's strong quintet comes to Palatine with high hopes of a double victory. Any way you figure it the Bronchos are favorites in both games, though the addition of Pepper to the Palatine varsity squad may help equalize chances in the varsity game.

Last year Palatine beat the Bronchos twice costing them a share of the championship. The year before Barrington won both games but for six straight years prior to that time Palatine had won every varsity conference game. A huge crowd is expected Friday and doors will be open at 6:30.

Saturday night Palatine travels to Grant to meet another tough team. Since the Grant school has been a member of the Northwest Conference, they have never beaten Palatine in a varsity basketball game. This year with a team of veterans and a six foot six center, they have their best chance.

BENSENVILLE'S favored Bisons may find Antioch a difficult opponent away from home Friday, but the outlook is for two more Bensenville wins this week end. Saturday the Bisons play Northbrook on the DuPage school's home court and it may be a runaway. Bob Thollander is setting a fast scoring pace and has ample assistance from Steffensen, Robertson and Kellar. Coach Meneguin used all his subs against Ela and at least half of Bensenville's games will be that onesided this year.

In other games Friday Grant is expected to thump Northbrook while Ela at Wauconda should develop into a very close game. Neither has the material to bid for a place in the first division this year.

Saturday Wauconda travels to Barrington and Antioch plays at Ela. The Antioch Sequoits were not given much chance at the start of the season but have shown amazing reversal of form by beating Warren and Grant and losing by one point to Barrington.

Women trounce men on Heights bowling alleys

The "Women's Team" at Arlington Bowling Lanes asserted their kegling superiority over the Arlington Liquor Mart men's squad Saturday by 107 pins. The girls, getting a 13 pin handicap each contest but not needing it, amassed actual totals of 854, 772, and 843, to take two of the games.

Mildred Porvich was tops for the winners with 511, while Eddie Wolf's 534 was high for the losers. L. Arnold was low man on the totem pole with 387.

Women's team: M. Porvich 511, R. Hertel 502, B. Riebe 463, F. Simon 488, T. LaBant 505, 867, 785, 856, 2508.

Woodstock wins two games from Hebron

The Woodstock High school varsity cagers took a 47-35 win over the Hebron basketball squad last week at Woodstock after the Woodstock junior varsity won the opener 27-23.

Eugene Shook and Bob Nelson shared high scoring honors as each made four baskets and four free throws to total 12 points each. Tibbitts of Hebron was the high point man of the evening with his 14 point tally.

MACS SAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

Who will win the Northeast basketball championship in the 14 game schedule just opening Friday night is a question that no one can come close to answering except by pure guess work. So few teams have played non-conference games that there is little basis for doping their strength. Crystal Lake lost to Dundee but who in this league could stay with them. Leyden whipped Maine but they may be having a very lean year. Woodstock won several non-league games against mediocre opponents but was soundly trounced by Evanston who beat Niles by almost the same lopsided count. Antioch, rated low in the Northwest, beat Warren easily. Libertyville was swamped by Waukegan but beat Zion handily. Lake Forest beat Grayslake but few teams in this area can't do that well for Grayslake is very weak. Arlington plays no preliminary games this year and has not been tested.

Woodstock, Lake Forest, and Leyden improved for 1947-48 season

Two teams we feel certain are out of the race for the championship are Warren and Crystal Lake whom we rank in the second division at the outset. Neither has experienced talent. From that point it is a toss up. Woodstock looks like one of the top three and is as good a bet as any in a wide open race. The blue and White, coached by O. C O'Hara, has much the tallest team in the league and with five non-league games under their belts are ready to open the league race as winners.

Pressing Woodstock, and on paper possibly looking better, will be Tom Short's Lake Forest quintet which has five lettermen and three regulars returning. Art Serfling did a swell job with the Scouts last year, bringing them to third and winning two tournaments. Tom Short who takes over this year with Serfling assisting made Lake Forest feared in cage circles before the war. Leyden's co-champ JV team of last year, tying with Woodstock, will be tough opposition for anyone.

Without a senior in the lineup the Eagles badly trounced Maine Twp. last week. George Cox may have a strong team this year but probably Leyden is a year away from a really consistent winner. Niles always has a strong basketball team leading the league in championships on the hardwood. This year they and Arlington probably will drop down a few pegs in the standings but will have fine teams and might win out in an evenly matched race.

Libertyville has a great guard in all-conference Bornell. What they have to go with him is the question, but at the worst they will not be bad.

Pick Arlington and Palatine to lose Friday—Hope they don't

In the league openers this week end we pick Woodstock to nip Leyden in a very close ball game; Niles, with two games against Suburban League teams as experience, to nose out Arlington; Lake Forest to outpoint Libertyville; and Crystal Lake to beat Warren. Saturday night Warren will lose to Niles in Skokie.

In the Northwest it is a double week end with both Friday and Saturday games. On Friday Barrington has the edge on Palatine, Grant should beat Northbrook, Bensenville will be too strong for a good Antioch five, while Ela will finally win at Wauconda due to superior height.

Saturday it looks like Palatine to beat Grant by the closest of margins, Wauconda to lose at Barrington, Bensenville to whip Northbrook and Antioch to win over Ela.

Ela looks like class of the frosh-sophs

With two games of 14 played in the Northwest it looks like pre-season prediction of Bensenville and Barrington to finish one-two was justified. All others have lost a game. Ela's frosh-sophs appear to be the class of the conference but Antioch, Bensenville and Barrington will push them.

Palatine and Northwest area lose a real sports fan

The sudden death of Harry Kincaid, victim of a heart attack last Friday evening, marked the passing of a real lover of high school sports and basketball in particular. Kincaid was well known among the school men of the Northwest and Northeast Conferences. Before the war while teaching at Crane Tech, Harry handled the calling of scores of games in this area to the Chicago papers, a job which we took over when he went into the service.

We will never forget the Northeast coaches versus Northwest Coaches game held in the Palatine gym some six or seven years ago which the Palatine Lions club sponsored. Actually it was Harry Kincaid who made all the contacts and arrangements and provided for the entertainment of the competing players. This is just one of many instances where Kincaid gave heavily of his time in the service of his community.

Kincaid coached basketball at Palatine High six years and produced two Northwest Conference

Leyden thumps Maine, 30-22

Leyden High of Franklin Park gave evidence Friday night that they will be a title threat in the Northeast conference by thumping Maine Township in a twin bill. The Leyden varsity made up of Premuth, Reruka, Graber and the Spera brothers gave a smooth exhibition. This quintet is made up of four juniors and a sophomore.

Leyden took the varsity game 30-22 and the frosh-soph 34-17. Leyden is host to Woodstock in the league opener Friday. Both rivals are rated a good chance in the Northeast title race.

Lake Forest to set sights on NE basketball

Lake Forest hopes to continue their dominence of Northeast Conference athletics by taking the basketball title and there is no question but what the Scouts have a chance. Last year they were coming strong at the end of the season when they took the district and beat New Trier in the regional before dropping a close decision to Evanston. Art Serfling piloted last year's team which also annexed the Palatine holiday tournament.

Tom Short who coached Lake Forest basketball before the war has returned to his old job and has five lettermen left over from last year. Walter Jones, six foot three colored center, will handle the pivot spot capably. One of the best players in the conference is Dick Moley, rangy guard, who has two seasons of regular play behind him. Lennie Anderson, Ed Burns and Ray Sayoc are returning. Last year Lake Forest finished in third place in the varsity standings. Art Serfling will coach the JV team and freshmen.

Leyden to have good cage team

One of the Northeast Conference's best outfits may be the Leyden underclass quintet playing varsity ball. Leyden's new coach, George Cox, formerly of Blue Island, will get most of his material from last year's champion junior varsity team.

Jim Spera is the only varsity regular back and he played last year as a sophomore. His soph brother is also on Leyden's regular five. Premuth, a junior transfer from Proviso, Graber, and Rerucka complete the Leyden starting five which doubled the count on Maine Township in a warm up game last week.

Art Lambert will coach the junior varsity and J. W. Mohrhusen will handle the freshmen.

Dundee outpoints Crystal Lake, 47-25

With Jim Schuldt, junior, registering 11 field goals and three free tosses for 25 points, Dundee's Cradinals chalked up their second victory of the season last week at Crystal Lake by downing the Lakers 47-25.

Following a close first quarter which ended with the Cards ahead 9-6, the Dundee quintet scored 13 points in the second frame while holding the home club to three, taking a 22-9 lead at the half.

The Cardunal frosh-soph, after grabbing a 12-8 opening quarter lead, lost out to the Crystal Lake minor squad 35-27.

Libertyville takes measure of Zion, 30-22

Libertyville took the measure of Zion fives in both games last Wednesday night. Ridenour, rangy sophomore center, put Zion in front at the start of the varsity game, but the Cats soon took command and were never headed as they won 30-22. Ridenour tallied 17 of his team's 22 points. Duane Otis of Libertyville scored six field goals. Libertyville easily captured the prelim by a 35-21 count with Bill Wells getting 12 points for the victors.

Boxing club trains for January bouts

Arlington's boys' boxing club, sponsored by the Merle Guild post, American Legion will box the "Opportunist Club" at the Evanston YMCA this Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The local youths are in training for their bouts with Highland Park scheduled for January to be held first at Highland Park, and then at Arlington Heights.

Find 1938 football Cardinals made superior record to this year's squad

Bob O'Hagan, former Arlington Heights high school athlete, brought to the sports editor's attention a couple of weeks ago that the local football Cardinals may have tied their present Northeast conference school record with six wins, one tie and one loss, but that they didn't match the best Heights all-time school record.

In checking the files of Paddock Publications, O'Hagan was found to be right and comparison of the two years' records is made here.

WITH JOHN L. GROSE coaching, the football Cardinals in the fall of '38 took seven contests and tied one, while this year's eleven won six, dropped one, and tied one.

In 1938 the locals beat the Elgin B squad for the opener, than mowed down all opposition in the Northwest league with the exception of Libertyville, which resulted in a scoreless tie.

Conference scores included:

Arlington 39, Grant 0.
Arlington 12, Lake Forest 6.
Arlington 27, Barrington 12.
Arlington 27, Niles Center 7.
Arlington 38, Leyden 0.
Arlington 33, Crystal Lake 13.

FOR COMPARISON'S sake this year's scores were:

Arlington 28, Barrington 6.
Lake Forest 20, Arlington 0.
Arlington 12, Crystal Lake 7.
Arlington 6, Libertyville 0.
Arlington 13, Niles 6.
Arlington 13, Leyden 0.
Arlington 0, Warren 0.
Arlington 19, Woodstock 0.

CARRYING the comparison one step farther, which doesn't necessarily mean a thing, the 1938 team appears to be just a bit better than this past fall's outfit.

Where the '38 squad beat Lake Forest by 6 points, the '47 group fell, 20-0. And where in '38 the Cards beat Leyden 38-0, this year's team won, 13-0.

Niles fell in 1938, 27-7, while in '47 they lost, 13-6. Crystal Lake succumbed both times, but lost by 14 more points in 1938.

The other side of the ledger shows Barrington beaten by 15 points in '38 and 21 in '47, and Libertyville losing in '47 by one touchdown, while tying the Heights boys in 1938.

FINAL analysis is offensive and defensive totals. Considering just the six opponents met in both seasons, the Cardinals were almost identical defensively. Thirty-nine points were scored against the locals in 1947, while Grose's '38 team gave up just 38.

Offensively the elder squad was far superior, 137-72.

One other point may be brought up in defense of this year's team: that the Elgin B squad was not a full-fledged opponent for the local eleven, giving the '38 team just seven regulation games compared to eight for the present generation.

It must be remembered, however, that in 1938 difference in enrollments between the two schools was much larger than at present, and according to impartial observers interviewed (not Arlington alumni) the Elgin B team was a match for most of the other Northwest conference squads.

ARLINGTON CAGERS TO OPEN AGAINST NILES FRIDAY NIGHT

Trojans slight favorites over Cardinals here

Locals to Warren Tuesday afternoon

Arlington Heights Cardinals, coached by Gene Bell, open basketball competition for the year this week, Friday night, when the Niles Trojans come to town. This will be the first Northeast conference tilt for the locals, as well as the first game of the season.

According to advance dope, Arlington rates about even with Niles, though the Trojans have at least two games under their belts and are slight favorites. Both squads are picked to rank near the top in the conference race.

WITH THEIR NEW coach, Gene Bell, at the helm, the Cards are hoping to at least equal last year's record of 17 won, 5 lost. They'll have to go some, though, to do just that, as other league squads are vastly improved, while the locals have just two lettermen returning to the cage sport.

Last season the Cards lost twice to Crystal Lake in the conference, split with Palatine, lost to Fisher, Ill., and dropped to Hebron in the regional tournament.

TAKING THE floor Friday night against Niles will be Vic Heimsoth at center, one of the two returning lettermen. He was a forward last year.

Bill Robinson, the other veteran, will be back at his guard position, with Wally Beckman, up from last year's J-Vs, holding down the other back court spot.

Three men rate starting positions on the Heights forward line, with two of them to get the nod Friday. They include Orville Schaeffer, John Shanley and Phil Roche.

OTHERS on the varsity squad and sure to see plenty of action, are: Lew Draper, Chuck Dresser, Phil Theis, Gordon Busse, Lloyd Meyer, Marvin Berschet, Tom Stockdale and Paul Ransdall. Busse is the only sophomore on the team.

Coach George Gibson's junior-varsity five will take the court at 7:15 Friday night, the feature game slated for 8:30. The Junior Cards gained a 6-6 record last year in the conference in copping fourth spot.

TUESDAY'S game at Warren is an afternoon affair for the Cards. Junior-varsity tilt will begin at 3:15, with the headliner slated for 4:45. Local fans planning to attend all of Arlington's games are urged to make note of the time of that game at Gurnee.

Other games slated for this week in the Northeast conference finds Woodstock playing at Leyden in what pre-season dope rates the McHenry county squad the edge, Libertyville at Lake Forest in which the Wildcats should succumb ,and Crystal Lake at Warren which the Lakers should take.

Barrington snows under Northbrook, 64-31

Barrington's sharpshooters really had the range last Friday night as they snowed Northbrook under by a count of 64-31 in the varsity game and 50-13 with the frosh-sophs.

The Bronchos could not miss in the early stages of the varsity game either from the field or free throw line. They ran up a 16-5 margin in the first quarter and increased it to 33-14 at half time. With subs playing much of the second half the scoring pace never slackened. Capt. Pomeroy sank nine from the field and four out of five charity tosses for 22 points. Savely got nine and Hansen seven. Lesch got eight points for Northbrook while Schildgen, their scoring ace, failed to tally a point.

LED BY Armanetti who scored 21 points the Ponies had ..... in their game after a close 5-2 first quarter. Going into the final period Barrington held a 34-6 lead. Barrington used a total of 24 boys in the two games.

Pirates take easy victory over Grayslake

Palatine's varsity team found Grayslake much weaker than expected and won an easy 38-23 victory Saturday night on the home court. Palatine Frosh-Sophs lost 25-21.

Grayslake failed to make a field goal in the first half of the varsity game and the Pirates held an 18-4 lead at the intermission. Coach Stutzman substituted freely in the final quarter. Grayslake outscored Palatine 14-13 in the last quarter.

Dick Steinbrinck scored nine points while McDonald and Klein each had seven. Hitzman scored 10 points for Grayslake.

THE GFAYSLAKE frosh-soph zone defense shut Palatine off from close in shots and the Pirates trailed after the first quarter. The half time score was 8-6 which Grayslake increased to 17-11 in the third period. Led by little Guenther's shooting the Pirates narrowed the count to 25-21 in the last period.

Northbrook on DuPage court after Bisons travel to Antioch

Palatine's Pirates have the toughest week end of basketball of the entire season coming up Friday and Saturday nights. On Friday Barrington's strong quintet comes to Palatine with high hopes of a double victory. Any way you figure it the Bronchos are favorites in both games, though the addition of Pepper to the Palatine varsity squad may help equalize chances in the varsity game.

Last year Palatine beat the Bronchos twice costing them a share of the championship. The year before Barrington won both games but for six straight years prior to that time Palatine had won every varsity conference game. A huge crowd is expected Friday and doors will be open at 6:30.

Saturday night Palatine travels to Grant to meet another tough team. Since the Grant school has been a member of the Northwest Conference, they have never beaten Palatine in a varsity basketball game. This year with a team of veterans and a six foot six center, they have their best chance.

BENSENVILLE'S favored Bisons may find Antioch a difficult opponent away from home Friday, but the outlook is for two more Bensenville wins this week end. Saturday the Bisons play Northbrook on the DuPage school's home court and it may be a runaway. Bob Thollander is setting a fast scoring pace and has ample assistance from Steffensen, Robertson and Kellar. Coach Meneguin used all his subs against Ela and at least half of Bensenville's games will be that onesided this year.

In other games Friday Grant is expected to thump Northbrook while Ela at Wauconda should develop into a very close game. Neither has the material to be for a place in the first division this year.

Saturday Wauconda travels to Barrington and Antioch plays at Ela. The Antioch Sequoits were not given much chance at the start of the season but have shown amazing reversal of form by beating Warren and Grant and losing by one point to Barrington.

Women trounce men on Heights bowling alleys

The "Women's Team" at Arlington Bowling Lanes asserted their kegling superiority over the Arlington Liquor Mart men's squad Saturday by 107 pins. The girls, getting a 13 pin handicap each contest but not needing it, amassed actual totals of 854, 772, and 843, to take two of the games.

Mildred Porvich was tops for the winners with 511, while Eddie Wolf's 534 was high for the losers. L. Arnold was low man on the totem pole with 387.

Woodstock wins two games from Hebron

The Woodstock High school varsity cagers took a 47-35 win over the Hebron basketball squad last week at Woodstock after the Woodstock junior varsity won the opener 27-23.

Eugene Shook and Bob Nelson shared high scoring honors as each made four baskets and four free throws to total 12 points each. Tibbitts of Hebron was the high point man of the evening with his 14 point tally.

MACSAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

Who will win the Northeast basketball championship in the 14 game schedule just opening Friday night is a question that no one can come close to answering except by pure guess work. So few teams have played non-conference games that there is little basis for doping their strength. Crystal Lake lost to Dundee but who in this league could stay with them. Leyden whipped Maine but they may be having a very lean year. Woodstock won several non-league games against mediocre opponents but was soundly trounced by Evanston who beat Niles by almost the same lopsided count. Antioch, rated low in the Northwest, beat Warren easily. Libertyville was swamped by Waukegan but beat Zion handily. Lake Forest beat Grayslake but few teams in this area can't do that well for Grayslake is very weak. Arlington plays no preliminary games this year and has not been tested.

Woodstock, Lake Forest, and Leyden improved for 1947-48 season

Two teams we feel certain are out of the race for the championship are Warren and Crystal Lake whom we rank in the second division at the outset. Neither has experienced talent. From that point it is a toss up. Woodstock looks like one of the top three and is as good a bet as any in a wide open race. The blue and White, coached by O. C O'Hara, has much the tallest team in the league and with five non-league games under their belts are ready to open the league race as winners.

Pressing Woodstock, and on paper possibly looking better, will be Tom Short's Lake Forest quintet which has five lettermen and three regulars returning. Art Serfling did a swell job with the Scouts last year, bringing them to third and winning two tournaments. Tom Short who takes over this year with Serfling assisting made Lake Forest feared in cage circles before the war. Leyden's co-champ JV team of last year, tying with Woodstock, will be tough opposition for anyone.

Without a senior in the lineup the Eagles badly trounced Maine Twp. last week. George Cox may have a strong team this year but probably Leyden is a year away from a really consistent winner. Niles always has a strong basketball team leading the league in championships on the hardwood. This year they and Arlington probably will drop down a few pegs in the standings but will have fine teams and might win out in an evenly matched race.

Libertyville has a great guard in all-conference Bornell. What they have to go with him is the question, but at the worst they will not be bad.

Pick Arlington and Palatine to lose Friday—Hope they don't

In the league openers this week end we pick Woodstock to nip Leyden in a very close ball game; Niles, with two games against Suburban League teams as experience, to nose out Arlington; Lake Forest to outpoint Libertyville; and Crystal Lake to beat Warren. Saturday night Warren will lose to Niles in Skokie.

In the Northwest it is a double week end with both Friday and Saturday games. On Friday Barrington has the edge on Palatine, Grant should beat Northbrook, Bensenville will be too strong for a good Antioch five, while Ela will finally win at Wauconda due to superior height.

Saturday it looks like Palatine to beat Grant by the closest of margins, Wauconda to lose at Barrington, Bensenville to whip Northbrook and Antioch to win over Ela.

Ela looks like class of the frosh-sophs

With two games of 14 played in the Northwest it looks like pre-season prediction of Bensenville and Barrington to finish one-two was justified. All others have lost a game. Ela's frosh-sophs appear to be the class of the conference but Antioch, Bensenville and Barrington will push them.

Palatine and Northwest area lose a real sports fan

The sudden death of Harry Kincaid, victim of a heart attack last Friday evening, marked the passing of a real lover of high school sports and basketball in particular. Kincaid was well known among the school men of the Northwest and Northeast Conferences. Lake Forest to set sights on NE basketball

Lake Forest hopes to continue their dominence of Northeast Conference athletics by taking the basketball title and there is no question but what the Scouts have a chance. Last year they were coming strong at the end of the season when they took the district and beat New Trier in the regional before dropping a close decision to Evanston. Art Serfling piloted last year's team which also annexed the Palatine holiday tournament.

Tom Short who coached Lake Forest basketball before the war has returned to his old job and has five lettermen left over from last year. Lennie Anderson, Ed Burns and Ray Sayoc are returning. Last year Lake Forest finished in third place in the varsity standings. Art Serfling will coach the JV team and freshmen.

Leyden to have good cage team

One of the Northeast Conference's best outfits may be the Leyden underclass quintet playing varsity ball. Leyden's new coach, George Cox, formerly of Blue Island, will get most of his material from last year's champion junior varsity team.

Jim Spera is the only varsity regular back and he played last year as a sophomore. His soph brother is also on Leyden's regular five. Premuth, a junior transfer from Proviso, Graber, and Rerucka complete the Leyden starting five which doubled the count on Maine Township in a warm up game last week.

Art Lambert will coach the junior varsity and J. W. Mohrhusen will handle the freshmen.

With Jim Schuldt, junior, registering 11 field goals and three free tosses for 25 points, Dundee's Cradinals chalked up their second victory of the season last week at Crystal Lake by downing the Lakers 47-25.

Following a close first quarter which ended with the Cards ahead 9-6, the Dundee quintet scored 13 points in the second frame while holding the home club to three, taking a 22-9 lead at the half.

The Cardunal frosh-soph, after grabbing a 12-8 opening quarter lead, lost out to the Crystal Lake minor squad 35-27.

Libertyville takes measure of Zion, 30-22

Libertyville took the measure of Zion fives in both games last Wednesday night. Ridenour, rangy sophomore center, put Zion in front at the start of the varsity game, but the Cats soon took command and were never headed as they won 30-22. Ridenour tallied 17 of his team's 22 points. Duane Otis of Libertyville scored six field goals. Libertyville easily captured the prelim by a 35-21 count with Bill Wells getting 12 points for the victors.

Boxing club trains for January bouts

Arlington's boys' boxing club, sponsored by the Merle Guild post, American Legion will box the "Opportunist Club" at the Evanston YMCA this Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The local youths are in training for their bouts with Highland Park scheduled for January to be held first at Highland Park, and then at Arlington Heights.

Find 1938 football Cardinals made superior record to this year's squad

Bob O'Hagan, former Arlington Heights high school athlete, brought to the sports editor's attention a couple of weeks ago that the local football Cardinals may have tied their present Northeast conference school record with six wins, one tie and one loss, but that they didn't match the best Heights all-time school record.

In checking the files of Paddock Publications, O'Hagan was found to be right and comparison of the two years' records is made here.

WITH JOHN L. GROSE coaching, the football Cardinals in the fall of '38 took seven contests and tied one, while this year's eleven won six, dropped one, and tied one.

In 1938 the locals beat the Elgin B squad for the opener, than mowed down all opposition in the Northwest league with the exception of Libertyville, which resulted in a scoreless tie.

Conference scores included:

Arlington 39, Grant 0.
Arlington 12, Lake Forest 6.
Arlington 27, Barrington 12.
Arlington 27, Niles Center 7.
Arlington 38, Leyden 0.
Arlington 33, Crystal Lake 13.

FOR COMPARISON'S sake this year's scores were:

Arlington 28, Barrington 6.
Lake Forest 20, Arlington 0.
Arlington 12, Crystal Lake 7.
Arlington 6, Libertyville 0.
Arlington 13, Niles 6.
Arlington 13, Leyden 0.
Arlington 0, Warren 0.
Arlington 19, Woodstock 0.

CARRYING the comparison one step farther, which doesn't necessarily mean a thing, the 1938 team appears to be just a bit better than this past fall's outfit.

Where the '38 squad beat Lake Forest by 6 points, the '47 group fell, 20-0. And where in '38 the Cards beat Leyden 38-0, this year's team won, 13-0.

Niles fell in 1938, 27-7, while in '47 they lost, 13-6. Crystal Lake succumbed both times, but lost by 14 more points in 1938.

The other side of the ledger shows Barrington beaten by 15 points in '38 and 21 in '47, and Libertyville losing in '47 by one touchdown, while tying the Heights boys in 1938.

FINAL analysis is offensive and defensive totals. Considering just the six opponents met in both seasons, the Cardinals were almost identical defensively. Thirty-nine points were scored against the locals in 1947, while Grose's '38 team gave up just 38.

Offensively the elder squad was far superior, 137-72.

One other point may be brought up in defense of this year's team: that the Elgin B squad was not a full-fledged opponent for the local eleven, giving the '38 team just seven regulation games compared to eight for the present generation.

It must be remembered, however, that in 1938 difference in enrollments between the two schools was much larger than at present, and according to impartial observers interviewed (not Arlington alumni) the Elgin B team was a match for most of the other Northwest conference squads.

Palatine ekes out 31-30 victory over Wauconda

Palatine took a double header at Wauconda last Wednesday in Northwest Conference games as the frosh-sophs took a 25-17 victory and the varsity eked out a 31-30 decision as Hestrup sank two free throws in the last 40 seconds.

The Pirate varsity team, with the exception of Harry Boobyer, had a bad night of basketball except at the free throw line. The Pirates scored 19 free throws in 31 attempts. Wauconda made good on only eight out of 25. That told the story of the game. Both teams fouled consistently in spite of close calling as Wauconda had 26 penalties and Palatine 25 and each lost several regulars on five fouls. Wauconda had a 11 to six edge in the field goal department.

PALATINE led throughout the game until the final minute of play. Quarter scores were 7-5, 19-13 and 2621 favoring the Pirates. In the last quarter Wauconda started hitting the basket and with 40 seconds to play Osinski, a freshman, hit from the field, was fouled and made the free throw to tie the score at 29 all. Right afterward Darrow was fouled and put Wauconda in the lead for the first time as he hit his charity try.

Seconds later Harold Hestrup was fouled under the basket and made his first of two tries to tie the score. With only five seconds to go Hestrup was again fouled which decided the game.

Five of Palatine's six field goals were made by Boobyer, center, who also flipped in seven of eight free throws for a scoring total of 17 points. Wauconda lost Fink and Bliss on fouls while Palatine lost Steinbrinck, Orzolen and Boobyer. Bliss led Wauconda with 10 points while Darrow scored six.

THE PALATINE frosh-sophs trailed 8-7 the first quarter but an adjusted lineup started to click and Palatine led 11-9 at the half and 19-13 going into the final segment. Coach Plate used 13 boys and while there was much ragged playing some boys showed fine possibilities.

Waznik, after a shaky start, came back late in the game to score six points. Steinbrinck played a good floor guard game and got two baskets. Kendzie, playing his first game of the season, scored five points. Rudden topped Wauconda with eight points. Both teams were weak on free throws as Palatine made but five out of 22. Thirty nine fouls were called in the game and seven out of 24 and Wauconda Wauconda lost two starters.

champions the second of which was the 1930-31 team made up, as we recall, of Helgeson, Meyer, Helms, Mess, and Cole. In the spring of 1931, Kincaid went to Crane Technical High of Chicago where he taught science since that time except for the period of the war.

Kincaid lived in Palatine and commuted to his school work in Chicago, but still found time to attend all the basketball games, handle scores for the press, boy scouts, Lions club activities, and church work. Harry served as president of the Palatine High School board of education for a number of years, resigning at the time he went away to serve his country.

As Coach of Palatine basketball teams during the time Kincaid was president of the board, I appreciated his backing and interest in the promotion of athletic activities. It was Kincaid who was instrumental in bringing football back as a sport at Palatine High school. Space is too limited to relate all the community projects, organizations, and movements which Harry Kincaid helped keep going in Palatine.

He was unselfish with his own time and talent, had a great capacity for work, and the driving force to take the initiative and get things done. Palatine has lost one of its most public spirited citizens and sports have lost a number one backer and fan.

"Bucky" Harris on University of Iowa squad

We got a lot of satisfaction out of hearing over the radio Monday night that "Bucky" Harris of Palatine was playing in Iowa's opening game against Carleton. Harris got in the final three minutes as a guard. With 12 lettermen back at Iowa Harris moved up from last year's freshman team to win a place on the varsity squad. We do not expect he will get in much this year but we think he has already accomplished a lot out there in making the squad.

Harris was one of the best players and finest competitors in basketball ever to play at Palatine high. We helped Harris secure enrollment at Iowa last year and we have been happy that we did so for he has been finding himself and is making a good record in other ways besides playing basketball.

Local athletes win all-state honorable mention

No football players from Northeast or Northwest conferences made the all-state this year. Several, however, were given honorable mention. Those thus honored were Bob Thollander, Bensenville halfback; Walter Beckman, Arlington guard; Len Anderson, Lake Forest quarterback; Bill Smith, Lake Forest end; and Bill Comstock, Niles end.

Bisons shellack Ela after losing prelim

Bensenville high school basketball five continued its winning ways last week, Tuesday night, by adminstering a severe 45-19 beating to Ela in the varsity encounter, while the local frosh-sophs were succumbing, 35-32, in a hard fought game.

The Bisons grabbed an early lead, gaining a 11-5 advantage the first period. The local never stopped, adding an 8-3 margin the second quarter. They tallied 12 and 14 more the final segments to 2 and 9 for the Lake Zurich squad.

IT WAS A bad night for both coach Meneguin's boys and the Bears, with neither team hitting the courts anywhere near accurately. The locals sank just 5 of 32 attempts from the field the first half, and 9 of 33 the second. Most of these tries were close in, many of them set-up tosses.

Ela made just 3 of 12 and 4 of 22 from their side of the court. Thollander notched seven baskets and five charities for high honors of the night, Steffensen gaining 11 and Robertson eight points. Biere was the only Lake Zurich man to drop in two buckets.

COACH FRANK Navotny's frosh-sophs held a one point lead at half time in the preliminary, but fell behind the third quarter, succumbing, 35-32. The junior Bisons had piled up a 12-7 first period lead, only to see it melt.

Prouty performed creditably for the Bears as he swished the net for seven buckets. Grever dropped in five and a free toss to rank second in the tilt.

All the locals made the scoring column with Egly's five baskets leading the way.

Mt. Prospect Walther league wins, girls lose to Palatine

by LEONA SHAW

The Mt. Prospect Senior Walther League basketball team beat Des Plaines, 49-34, Sunday, Nov. 30, in the Arlington High School gym.

Mt. Prospect went ahead at the beginning of the game by making 7 baskets in a row, making the score 14-0. Des Plaines fought hard, but Mt. Prospect seemed to be faster all the way through the game.

Bill Wille was high man for Mt. Prospect with 16 points. Hank Ehard made a few long shots with 9 points to his credit. Bob Wille also played a good game and had 8 points to his credit. Mt Prospect had eleven men out for the game Sunday which creates a better team.

Jr. Walther League loses

Mt. Prospect Jr. Walther League team lost to Des Plaines in the Park Ridge Jr. high school gym, score of 19-18, Sunday. The score was close all the way through. At the end of the first quarter the tally was Mt. Prospect 3, Des Plaines 2.

Mt. Prospect Girls' team loses, 24-10

The Mt. Prospect Walther League Girls team lost to Palatine Sunday, Nov. 30, at Park Ridge. The score was Palatine 24, Mt. Prospect 10.

The competition seemed to be too great for the Mt. Prospect team ,although the girls fought hard.

Virginia Bierman made 3 baskets and Audrey Wille was outstanding as a guard.

SUES FOR INJURIES

Elizabeth Marsen has sued E. C. Dahnke and Freeport Motor Casualty Co. in the Superior court for $50,000 for injuries she sustained in an automobile accident in Des Plaines April 19. She states that on that date she was a passenger in her husband's car at Potter and Dempster roads when it was hit by Dahnke's car and she was injured. At first it was thought her injuries were not serious, only bruises, so she signed a settlement for $250. Later it was found that her injuries were much more serious. So now she asks that her release be cancelled and larger damages be given her.

French family of six of Palatine descendant average 74 years of age

Henry Duquennoy, 408 W. Wood street, Palatine, learned recently that the family from which he descends in the North of France, City of Tourcoing, shows a good example of longevity and fecundity. The six members of the Charles Duquennoy family: Joseph, 79; Paul 77; Henry 73; Edward 69; Justine 71; all living and married; and Henriette 75, living and single; make a total of 444 years, or 4½ centuries. One sister, Marie, died last January, or the total would have been 511 years.

The grandparents of these children lived to be 97 and 95 years old. Their father died at the age of 80 and their mother at the age of 85. This longevity is double because the four sons living still have their wives living, who are about the same age as they are. Eighty-seven descendants also survive.

On Henry Ruquennoy's side of the family, descendants from Emile Duquennoy, his father died at age of 84, and his mother at age of 86. Of their seven children, five still survive, Emile 69; Marie 64; Henry 62; Jeanne 50; all married; and Valentine 58, who is single. One daughter, Marguerite, died at age of 67; a son died at age of 9. From both these generations 120 descendants are still living. The Duquennoy family is noted to be one of the oldest in the North of France.

Vivian Masny, Eugene Hugo exchange vows

Community Camera

The wedding vows of Miss Vivian Masny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Masny of Arlington Heights, and Eugene Hugo, son of Mr and Mrs. William Hugo of Wheeling, were solemnized last Saturday evening at the Methodist church in Arlington Heights. Palms, ferns, and baskets of mums decorated the candlelit church, and a blue light at the altar cast a soft glow over the wedding party. Rev. Milo Vondracek read the marriage vows and during the ceremony Mary Ann Laseke sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Dick Everett.

Gowned in ivory satin, Miss Masny entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. A deep V yoke edged in lace formed the front and back of the bodice, which also buttoned down the front and had long sleeves. The full skirt ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil was of French Illusion and was fastened to a headpiece of ivory satin trimmed with white velvet forget-me-nots and sweetpeas inside of the turned up brim. She carried a bridal bouquet of gardenias with an orchid in the center of the bouquet.

Matron of honor for the bride was Mrs. Dolores Bokelmann, who was attired in a flame blue faille taffeta dress, styled with cap sleeves, high neckline, and silver buttons down the front of the bodice. The full skirt was gathered in front making a dip in the hemline. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and wore a matching spray in her hair.

Ellen Crofoot, Carol Busse, Leona Kirchhoff, and Sylvia Masny served as bridesmaids. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor and carried bouquets of deep pink carnations, wearing matching sprays in their hair.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his brother, William Hugo, with Richard Bokelmann, Myron Masny, Edward Crofoot, and Leonard Gieske acting as ushers.

Mrs. Masny chose to wear a grey crepe dress, trimmed with rhinestones, for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a light blue crepe dress, and both mothers had orchid corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Mt. Prospect Country Club and was atended by 300 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Hugo are honeymooning at Kings Gateway hotel, Land O'Lakes, Wis. Upon their return they will make their home with the bride's parents for the present.

Panama

Now transferring to Panama is Capt. George Cunningham of Mt. Prospect.

"This is to let you know that I am being transferred to Panama Dec. 17 for a 24 to 30 month tour of overseas duty.

"Am to report to Camp Kilmer, N. J., not later than midnight Dec. 17 for the processing for a tropical climate and have been informed that I am to be sent to some field in Panama, the Carribean Defense Area.

"Both Mrs. Cunningham and myself want to thank you for sending us the Mt. Prospect Herald for the past five years and we have enjoyed reading it and keeping up with the movement and activities of the people we knew in that neighborhood."

Stassen at New Trier next Tuesday

North Shore voters will have an opportunity to weigh the qualifications of another aspirant for the Republican Presidential nomination when Harold E. Stassen speaks Thursday evening, December 11, at 8:30 in New Trier high school gymnasium.

Senator Robert A. Taft, who made a highly successful appearance here in October, shortly afterward announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination. Mr. Stassen, already an active bidder for top listing on his party ticket in 1948, is the second in this series of outstanding men in the Republican party to appear.

Thrice elected governor of Minnesota (he resigned in 1943 to enter the Navy) Harold E. Stassen has packed a tremendous amount of political experience into his forty years of life. A lawyer by profession, he was a leader in every phase of Minnesota state politics; temporary chairman and keynoter of the Republican National Convention in 1940; and twice chosen by 47 fellow-governors as chairman of the Governors' Conference and president of the Council of State Governments.

During 1943-44, Stassen was on active line duty as a navy officer in the South Pacific, participated in five naval battles, received four citations and decorations, and at one time served as secretary and Assistant Chief of Staff to Admiral Halsey, Commander of the Third Fleet.

Get 5-year-awards for March of Dimes work

Silver badges for five years of service in the March of Dimes, campaign of the Cook County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, were presented November 24 by Arthur F. Senior, Suburban division manager at Sally's restaurant in Skokie.

Those receiving pins included: Norman Watson, 1508 Scheiner ave., Northbrook; Wm. H. DePue, Palatine; Mrs. A. F. Brownell, 703 Elmhurst Rd., Prospect Heights.

Miss Frances Karlsteen, executive secretary of the Cook County chapter, reported that up to September 30 of this year, 474 persons in the county were stricken with infantile paralysis and that 832 persons were assisted by the chapter during the same period.

Since the average polio case needs about two or three years of treatment, she said, the chapter is still giving assistance to children stricken during the 1946 epidemic.

An average of $2,000 is spent on every case given assistance, which is 95% of those needing treatment after a two week period of isolation. She emphasized the high cost of treating a polio case which most families can not afford without assistance from the infantile paralysis foundation.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of William D. Schott who passed away three years ago December 7.

Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
A beautiful memory he left behind.
He had a nature you could not help loving,
A heart that was purer than gold;
And to those who knew him and loved him,
His memory will never grow cold.

Sorrowful wife and children,

Mrs. Schott and Family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of William D. Schott who passed away three years ago December 7.

Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
A beautiful memory he left behind.
He had a nature you could not help loving,
A heart that was purer than gold;
And to those who knew him and loved him,
His memory will never grow cold.

Sorrowful wife and children,

Mrs. Schott and Family.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Arline was complaining to a friend of hers the other day that people just didn't understand her.

"You know how I do my hair, Rose? Well, Mavis could learn a lot from me, and I told her so. About how to arrange her hair, how to walk, and what clothes go best with her complexion. But the silly thing just wouldn't listen to a thing I said. She actually got angry!"

"I don't wonder," Rose answered. "Don't think I don't burn up when you assume your air of superiority. Really, you aren't superior, Arline. You're just vain."

Rather plain talk. But Rose really had something there. Few personailty traits are more obnoxious to others than the false impression some people have concerning themselves.

No one would object to Arline if she were simply proud. Pride is something real, and fine, if it is genuine and not founded on false precepts. It is one of the things that makes us happy in our homes, makes us careful in our attitude toward others, improves the quality of our work, keeps us ever on our toes to do better, to excel ourselves. Vanity begins with the belief that we are already beautiful, or in some wonderful way, superior to others, and keeps us from seeing ourselves in a true light. A proud man may never stoop to belittle himself, will not scrape and bow for the sake of a few words of false praise, but a vain person assumes airs and attitudes which cry aloud for his need of flattery and self adulation.

And unlike any other passion of the body, vanity is always with us. We may flare up in momentary anger, may be bowed with sorow or burned with desire. These passions pass away, and we become normal once again. But vanity? Day and night the vain person is obcessed with thoughts about himself. He is the center of all his thinking. He is the little axis about which the world revolves. He passes through life the victim of an obcession, worshipping at the shrine of his own self devotion. Helpless, mostly alone, he adores himself as a waterlily existing among a pool of frogs.

Wedding bells ring for Miriam Tidd, Bob Long

Community Camera

Wednesday evening, November 26, Miss Mariam Tidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Tidd of Mt. Prospect, became the bride of Robert D. Lond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Long of Glenview, in a ceremony held at the First Methodist church, Glenview. The couple said their vows after Rev. Eldon Kerner as they stood before the altar that was banked with vases of white mums.

Miss Tidd, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street length dress of gun metal color, set off with black accessories and a corsage of white mums and roses. She was attended by her sister, Virginia Tidd, who wore a powder blue crepe dress, with black accessories and a corsage of white mums and pink roses.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Glenn Long.

The bride's mother was gowned in a green dress, and wore black accessories, while the groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white mums and carnations.

Only the members of the immediate families attended the wedding and following the ceremony they were guests at a wedding supper held at Elliott's Log Cabin.

Mr. and Mrs. Long enjoyed a short honeymoon at the Moraine Hotel in Highland Park and are now making their home with the groom's parents, on Central road in Glenview.

Public Service opens new building at Barrington

The new operating headquarters building of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois on Hough street just south of the Northwest highway Barrington, was the scene of an open house Saturday, it was announced by Martin Schreiber, district superintendent.

The new lannon stone and brick building, recently completed by the Jensen and Rieke Construction company, now serves as the company's headquarters for both gas and electric operating departments serving the Barrington area. It contains 8,000 square feet of floor space and houses offices for operating personnel, a store room and garage facilities for service cars and trucks.

Space for outside material storage is also provided at the new location.

Cleaning Floors

A hardwood floor with a wax finish should never be cleaned with soap, water or oil. Use only wax.

JUST DOGS

Breeding

These days much is heard about the breeding of dogs and many a new dog owner goes off on some rather vague explanation of just how and what the breeding of his dog is using terms which in some cases the owner himself does not fully understand.

A good example of what the above statement means was brought home to the dog editor a week ago when a party was discussing the fine points about her dog and what a good show dog he was, all of which she said was due to "inbreeding." A few rather pointed questions by the editor brought out the fact that it was not "inbreeding," but "linebreeding" which had been done by the owner of the sire and dam of this particular woman's dog.

To help understand this subject of the four basic breeding methods there follows a rather concise description of what each means.

No. 1: "Inbreeding" is the mating of related individuals (usually not more than two generations removed from one another), where neither individual is an ancestor of the other. This excludes such matings as mother to son, granddaughter to grandfather, etc. The maximum inbreeding that can be obtained in a single mating is brother to sister.

No. 2: "Linebreeding" seems to be of most importance to the dog fancier today. Unfortunately, it has been over-publicized and in many cases over-sold. It is the breeding of an individual to one of his (or her) ancestors.

No. 3: "Outbreeding" is a mating between individuals less closely related than average and in most cases not even related.

No. 4: "Crossbreeding" is the mating of one breed to another and if the dogs of such matings continue on down the line you get what one rather small boy called the "curb-stone-setter." Needless to say this breeding developes a dog which in many cases defies you to try and identify.

Something to remember

In the next article of "Just Dogs," it is published every other week, your editor will have something to say about that new Christmas puppy you may be getting. Although it may take away some of the Christmas day thrill, after reading it you will probably agree at least in part with the points mentioned.

Dog Facts

The National Springer Field Trials will be held at Herrin, Ill., on December 12, 13, and 14, 1947.

A dog's coat grows on the average of one-half inch per month with the exception of some long-haired breeds whose coats grow more rapidly. The hair that drops out is replaced by new hair coming in—that's why no "barber-shop" is needed in most cases.

California Leads

Five counties of California led all others in value of farm products, according to latest census of agriculture. Yakima, Wash., placed in sixth standing among all counties of the United States, followed by three more California counties.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Arline was complaining to a friend of hers the other day that people just didn't understand her.

"You know how I do my hair, Rose? Well, Mavis could learn a lot from me, and I told her so. About how to arrange her hair, how to walk, and what clothes go best with her complexion. But the silly thing just wouldn't listen to a thing I said. She actually got angry!"

"I don't wonder," Rose answered. "Don't think I don't burn up when you assume your air of superiority. Really, you aren't superior, Arline. You're just vain."

Rather plain talk. But Rose really had something there. Few personailty traits are more obnoxious to others than the false impression some people have concerning themselves.

No one would object to Arline if she were simply proud. Pride is something real, and fine, if it is genuine and not founded on false precepts. It is one of the things that makes us happy in our homes, makes us careful in our attitude toward others, improves the quality of our work, keeps us ever on our toes to do better, to excel ourselves. Vanity begins with the belief that we are already beautiful, or in some wonderful way, superior to others, and keeps us from seeing ourselves in a true light. A proud man may never stoop to belittle himself, will not scrape and bow for the sake of a few words of false praise, but a vain person assumes airs and attitudes which cry aloud for his need of flattery and self adulation.

And unlike any other passion of the body, vanity is always with us. We may flare up in momentary anger, may be bowed with sorow or burned with desire. These passions pass away, and we become normal once again. But vanity? Day and night the vain person is obcessed with thoughts about himself. He is the center of all his thinking. He is the little axis about which the world revolves. He passes through life the victim of an obcession, worshipping at the shrine of his own self devotion. Helpless, mostly alone, he adores himself as a waterlily existing among a pool of frogs.

Wedding bells ring for Miriam Tidd, Bob Long

Community Camera

Wednesday evening, November 26, Miss Mariam Tidd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Tidd of Mt. Prospect, became the bride of Robert D. Lond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Long of Glenview, in a ceremony held at the First Methodist church, Glenview. The couple said their vows after Rev. Eldon Kerner as they stood before the altar that was banked with vases of white mums.

Miss Tidd, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street length dress of gun metal color, set off with black accessories and a corsage of white mums and roses. She was attended by her sister, Virginia Tidd, who wore a powder blue crepe dress, with black accessories and a corsage of white mums and pink roses.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Glenn Long.

The bride's mother was gowned in a green dress, and wore black accessories, while the groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white mums and carnations.

Only the members of the immediate families attended the wedding and following the ceremony they were guests at a wedding supper held at Elliott's Log Cabin.

Mr. and Mrs. Long enjoyed a short honeymoon at the Moraine Hotel in Highland Park and are now making their home with the groom's parents, on Central road in Glenview.

JUST DOGS

Breeding

These days much is heard about the breeding of dogs and many a new dog owner goes off on some rather vague explanation of just how and what the breeding of his dog is using terms which in some cases the owner himself does not fully understand.

A good example of what the above statement means was brought home to the dog editor a week ago when a party was discussing the fine points about her dog and what a good show dog he was, all of which she said was due to "inbreeding." A few rather pointed questions by the editor brought out the fact that it was not "inbreeding," but "linebreeding" which had been done by the owner of the sire and dam of this particular woman's dog.

To help understand this subject of the four basic breeding methods there follows a rather concise description of what each means.

No. 1: "Inbreeding" is the mating of related individuals (usually not more than two generations removed from one another), where neither individual is an ancestor of the other. This excludes such matings as mother to son, granddaughter to grandfather, etc. The maximum inbreeding that can be obtained in a single mating is brother to sister.

No. 2: "Linebreeding" seems to be of most importance to the dog fancier today. Unfortunately, it has been over-publicized and in many cases over-sold. It is the breeding of an individual to one of his (or her) ancestors.

No. 3: "Outbreeding" is a mating between individuals less closely related than average and in most cases not even related.

No. 4: "Crossbreeding" is the mating of one breed to another and if the dogs of such matings continue on down the line you get what one rather small boy called the "curb-stone-setter." Needless to say this breeding develops a dog which in many cases defies you to try and identify.

Public Service opens new building at Barrington

The new operating headquarters building of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois on Hough street just south of the Northwest highway Barrington, was the scene of an open house Saturday, it was announced by Martin Schreiber, district superintendent.

The new lannon stone and brick building, recently completed by the Jensen and Rieke Construction company, now serves as the company's headquarters for both gas and electric operating departments serving the Barrington area. It contains 8,000 square feet of floor space and houses offices for operating personnel, a store room and garage facilities for service cars and trucks.

Space for outside material storage is also provided at the new location.

Cleaning Floors

A hardwood floor with a wax finish should never be cleaned with soap, water or oil. Use only wax.

Palatine Maennerchor closes shop

The Palatine Maennerchor finally succumbed to the inevitable, settled the financial affairs of the society and disbanded a few days ago. A small balance still in the treasury, was tendered to the Palatine Red Cross.

During a period of 40 years the Maennerchor cherished the beloved songs of the Fatherland and fostered the feeling of good fellowship and intellectual enjoyment among its members. Once a strong society, the leader in society, the leader in social events, there are only a few members remaining of the old guard. Time changes all things and they had to surrender.

THE HELPING HAND

With the sudden passing of Harry Kincaid a helping hand has been removed from Palatine's activities. Harry was ever ready and willing to lend a helping hand to any worthwhile venture and ever since he first came to Palatine as an instructor and coach at the Palatine Township high school he has always been busy in assisting in every good cause where a good worker was needed to boost things along.

Not only was he busy in his classes and as basketball coach back in the old days, he found time to be scoutmaster of the boy scouts and to take part in all other civic enterprises. Red Cross drives, paper drives, scrap drives—whatever was to be done—Harry was there to help.

The push and enthusiasm which he put into everything he did was a great help in bringing those ventures to a successful culmination. Unbounded enthusiasm was his long suit and the fact that from a mere handful of players he developed some of Palatine's greatest basketball teams can be attributed to the vast amount of energy and enthusiasm which he himself had and which he was able to impart to his players.

He was a leader in anything that was for the welfare of youth, and was one of the first sponsors of the Consolidated school movements in Palatine. Coming out of the war a major Harry started right in where he'd left off to join the armed forces and resumed his keen interest in football, basketball and community activities.

His sudden death was a shock to the community — a cheery smile and an ever ready helping hand has gone from the life and activities of Palatine.

REAL WINTER

The last week of November of 1947 will go down in history as a regular old he-man winter week. There wasn't any "squaw winter" about November's farewell this year with snow storms, zero cold and a regular old taste of midwinter weather.

That last week of November would have done credit to any time in January or February, and if that sort of thing is going to keep up it's going to be a long time until the spring breezes get to blowing along about the latter part of next April or the first of May.

We are on our way to the shortest day of the year, anyhow and after that gets behind us it always sort of seems that we are headed down the long long trail to spring at least.

FEED THE BIRDS

The early snowfall makes it necessary for bird lovers to start feeding their feathered friends earlier this winter than for many years. The snow has covered up a lot of the seeds and things that the birds normally feed upon at this season, and they are looking for help from their neighbors.

For some reason or other there seems to be a scarcity of birds this fall; for the last few weeks we have observed very few of any sort around. But where a spot was cleared of snow and some food put out they appeared from nowhere as if by magic.

Sparrows, juncas and starlings were soon at work on the feeding grounds, and a blue jay and cardinal were prospecting around looking over the field and seeing what the chances were going to be for winter feeding. It is certainly a wonder the way the word seems to go out over the bird grapevine when food is available.

The first bird to show up on our feeding lot was a starling. He soon departed and returned with a couple of his fellows. Next came a junca and he also departed and several of the little birds were soon making their appearance. Then a sparrow or two showed up and were soon followed by more of their kind.

THE HUNTERS

The Missouri quail hunters returned with a net kill of 8 or 9 quail and a half dozen they couldn't find. They also brought along some cigarettes and according to some of the boys Ed. Haseman had the quail, the smokes and all the rest of the plunder.

Ed, having furnished the dog, was given special consideration in the distribution of the spoils. The boys were grumbling the other day that he hadn't even reported on how good the quail tasted and hadn't passed out any of the smokes, being so busy since his return that he hadn't had time to visit the usual haunts of the gang.

Ed, however, bowled another series over 500 upon his return and seems to be one major leaguer who has got the drop on what to do with those tricky alleys.

BETTER AT HOME

The day after their return from the big hunt Stan Arendt and Roy La Londe went out and bagged three cock pheasants and a rabbit, netting more meat in poundage in one afternoon than the whole crowd had bagged in a week down in Missouri. "It's better hunting right here at home," say the boys.

BACK IN CIRCULATION

George Kenyon walked into the coffee hour the other morning on two crutches looking hale and hearty and expressing himself as delighted to be back in circulation again and able to get about town a little. He is getting uneasy at being cooped up and is raring to get out on the job.

George says he has learned too late in life that roofs are no place to fool around on, but he's glad to be getting along as fine as he is.

OCEANS OF FACTS

The surface waters of the Atlantic Ocean are saltier than those in corresponding regions of the Pacific, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Although the reason for this is not yet known, evaporation is probably less in the Pacific because of lower wind velocity, and rainfall is greater than in the Atlantic.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

It would be presumptuous of me to evaluate the worthiness of the present abstract and surrealist exhibit at the Art Institute. It would also be unintelligent to assume a "closed mind" attitude and stay away from this most colorful of all shows because "these modernists are all crackpots, turning out pictures that look as if they were thought up in an insane asylum." Haven't you heard similar criticisms?

It seems to me that, since we are surely a part of this atomic era whether we approve of it or not, we must be ready for whatever our contemporaries present, be it in fashions, economics, the fine arts, war or peace. We are of the present, and though many of us love the old things, old houses, old friends, we do ourselves an injustice when we refuse to consider what is good in contemporaneous events.

Having these thoughts in mind, I was delighted to accept Dorothy's and Vera's invitation to attend a seminar last week at the Art Institute. I met them there in plenty of time for the first lecture at eleven. It was given by Amedee Ozenfant, one of the leaders of French Modernism, on abstract art. Every seat in the theater was filled with what appeared to be a most enthusiastic audience.

Mr. Ozenfant's lecture, in which he used slides for demonstration, was a wonderful preparation for this most colorful and stimulating exhibit in the second floor gallery. For my part, I felt as if I were seeing and understanding abstract art, at least in some degree, for the first time. And for the first time, I no longer felt the question of what the artist "meant" rise in my mind. I was at long last able to accept these works of art for their symbolic and rhythmic forms and stirring colors. These pictures and sculptures are alive! They are not imitations or repetitions of pictures we have seen over and over.

After lunch in the Institute's cafeteria, we attended Mr. Kurt Seligmann's lecture, with demonstrations, on the art of the surrealists. Mr. Seligmann was born in Switzerland and lives in New York. He is considered an authority on magic, a student of North Pacific Indian Art, and is a writer and scholar as well as a painter.

Surrealism is a movement in modern art which attempts to show the activities of the subconscious mind by means of images that frequently, as in a dream, are without apparent order. It is a fantastic expression of art, and should be acceptable to us, if we pause and reflect on our own dreams. Hardly any of us escape from dreams at some time or another. Maybe we think they are not worthy of putting down on canvas, but the artist thinks his dreams are, and who am I to question his right to do so?

I found the examples of this particular art amusing and arresting, and that is quite enough for me. I am perfectly willing to leave their artistic value to the judgment of the Art Institute—and posterity. And I am grateful to that institution for presenting this large and superbly hung exhibition of present day American art. I do not intend to let one trip suffice, for in looking over the catalogue here at home, I see I have missed a few of the artists showing whom I particularly enjoy. Julia Thecla, for one. She paints small, gem-like pictures, about whom you hear people say, "Now there's a picture I could hang in my home!"

My friend, Elizabeth Moir, can take her little son, Tony, to this show during the Christmas holidays and point out his Daddy's picture, called, "Painting." It hangs just outside of the gallery in the east corridor, and is an abstract.

The atom bomb as we know it now is a horrifying and hideous thing, but if its force can be diverted towards helping mankind to understand and solve his contemporary problems, it will be considered a beautiful thing. The approach is everything. What is exquisite to one person is ugly to another.

But there is usefulness and beauty in all if we are willing to search for it with an open mind. The trouble with most of us is that we are too lazy to get out of our mental ruts. What we need is a good push now and then to make us aware of what is going on about us, and pull the reins on our smugness.

If you're suffering from the doldrums, just drop those household cares for a few hours, and see the fifty-eighth annual exhibition of American Painting and Sculpture at Chicago's own Art Institute. I'll guarantee you'll return to hearth and family with renwed vigor and enthusiasm.

With love, Mary.

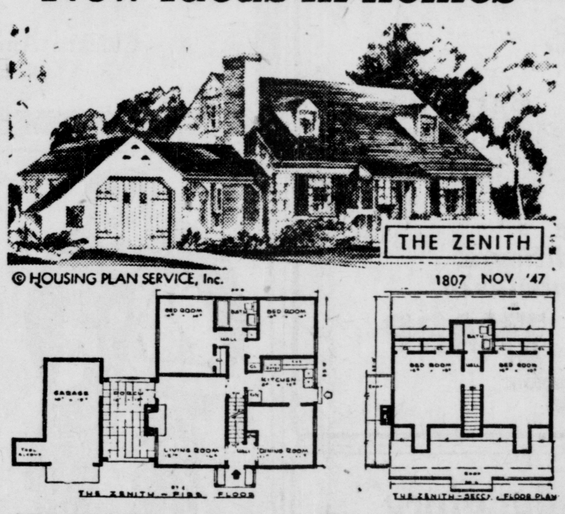
New ideas in homes



THE ZENITH—A thoroughbred—a true, blueblood with generations of American Colonial tradition back of it—is the best description of The Zenith. It is, moreover, a house with an eye to the future.

It offers a five room home on the first floor complete with living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. You may add two more bedrooms and bath upstairs whenever you need them and feel you can afford them. Five rooms or seven rooms: the choice is yours and the design is in no way affected by your choice.

Every room is of good livable size. Each is well proportioned. The main portion of the house is almost square which facilitates economical construction. The living room has an open fireplace, the outside brickwork of which adds to the charm of the exterior.

The garage is attached to the house by an open porch which serves as a covered way from house to garage in bad weather. The little salt box extension that adds charm to the lines of the garage serves as a convenient storage for garden tools and keeps them out of the garage proper.

The roof dormers, the small paned windows, the homey front entrance, the wide painted shingles, are all authentic items of true Colonial.

The Zenith was designed to conform to the standards of the Federal Housing Administration. Its wiring plan is approved by National Adequate Wiring Bureau.

Complete detailed architect's blueprints and specifications cost $7.50 per set and are obtainable from Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights.

Stop lights a necessity at Palatine crossing

SAFE TRAFFIC

I would like to make a few corrections for the benefit of the pastor who last week had a good letter on safety.

Namely, he probably did not count the autos that pass the Palatine road-Northwest highway crossing for any length of time, because between 400 and 500 cars of all kinds, pleasure cars, light trucks and big trailer trucks use both roads per hour.

Also, don't overlook the fact that several school buses use this crossing each school day. Cost of one wreck of a bus would pay for the installation and maintenance of the lights for several years, but it wouldn't bring back the life of some child killed in such a wreck.

I am certainly surprised that any fair minded citizen of Palatine would suggest that it would not be fair to stop vehicles, to save lives or property. There are at least seven stop light crossings on Rand, Milwaukee and Waukegan roads, that don't have half the traffic that our corner has.

If drivers would use their heads a little, they know rarely would they have to make a complete stop for a light. They can coast up to a red light, and when it turns green, proceed on with no lost motion.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars safety committee began work on the idea of building an underpass under the highway near Wood street about three months ago and have already had one conference with the state highway engineer on the subject. We need both improvements for a safer Palatine. Let's all get together and pull for both.

HELPS VILLAGE

An out of town visitor in Arlington Heights the past week stated

"I am a publisher of three papers located in Kent, Washington. After looking over the Arlington Heights Herald I would say that the editor of that paper is doing a lot for the village of Arlington Heights, besides just giving local news."

LIKES THE ADS

Cutest and cleverest ad I've ever read was in your Arlington Heights Herald in the household column reading as follows:

For Sale: New love seat, deer rifle, never used, etc.

How about that, Mr. Paddock? I didn't know things like that still went on. Do these two things go together—the rifle and love seat? The guy selling that stuff was in a heck of a fix if he resorted to such tricks.

FROM DENVER

Living conditions are awful in Denver. We've been without a place to live since June 1, and have been guests of friends of ours out in the country since August at the rte. 2, box 146 home of John Huntington, Denver, Colo.

JUST A PHRASE

I have followed the discussion on the phrase "nigger in the woodpile" with some interest and considerable irritation. It seems to me that it was a trivial thing to stir up such a commotion. The phrase has been in common use for at least three generations and has lost any meaning it may have had in reference to the colored race.

It may be right to condemn the use of the word "nigger" when used separately but in the phrase under discussion it no longer has any place in a discussion of race. If we were to delete every word, to which any one could find an objection, from the English language, we would have a week and colorless language.

Also, the discussion seems to have expanded to a discussion of the Negro question in general. I have no desire to take sides on this issue, but I would like to call attention to the fact that this is not a single question. It is a complex question made up of hundreds of small questions and the way to solve it is to solve the small questions one at a time. You cannot solve the question by ignoring it or by passing a law requiring everyone to wear dark glasses.

Palatine Maennerchor closes shop

The Palatine Maennerchor finally succumbed to the inevitable, settled the financial affairs of the society and disbanded a few days ago. A small balance still in the treasury, was tendered to the Palatine Red Cross.

During a period of 40 years the Maennerchor cherished the beloved songs of the Fatherland and fostered the feeling of good fellowship and intellectual enjoyment among its members. Once a strong society, the leader in society, the leader in social events, there are only a few members remaining of the old guard. Time changes all things and they had to surrender.

Tales of the STREET

BY I. C. HART

THE HELPING HAND

With the sudden passing of Harry Kincaid a helping hand has been removed from Palatine's activities. Harry was ever ready and willing to lend a helping hand to any worthwhile venture and ever since he first came to Palatine as an instructor and coach at the Palatine Township high school he has always been busy in assisting in every good cause where a good worker was needed to boost things along.

Not only was he busy in his classes and as basketball coach back in the old days, he found time to be scoutmaster of the boy scouts and to take part in all other civic enterprises. Red Cross drives, paper drives, scrap drives—whatever was to be done—Harry was there to help.

The push and enthusiasm which he put into everything he did was a great help in bringing those ventures to a successful culmination. Unbounded enthusiasm was his long suit and the fact that from a mere handful of players he developed some of Palatine's greatest basketball teams can be attributed to the vast amount of energy and enthusiasm which he himself had and which he was able to impart to his players.

He was a leader in anything that was for the welfare of youth, and was one of the first sponsors of the Consolidated school movements in Palatine. Coming out of the war a major Harry started right in where he'd left off to join the armed forces and resumed his keen interest in football, basketball and community activities.

His sudden death was a shock to the community — a cheery smile and an ever ready helping hand has gone from the life and activities of Palatine.

REAL WINTER

The last week of November of 1947 will go down in history as a regular old he-man winter week. There wasn't any "squaw winter" about November's farewell this year with snow storms, zero cold and a regular old taste of midwinter weather.

That last week of November would have done credit to any time in January or February, and if that sort of thing is going to keep up it's going to be a long time until the spring breezes get to blowing along about the latter part of next April or the first of May.

We are on our way to the shortest day of the year, anyhow and after that gets behind us it always sort of seems that we are headed down the long long trail to spring at least.

FEED THE BIRDS

The early snowfall makes it necessary for bird lovers to start feeding their feathered friends earlier this winter than for many years. The snow has covered up a lot of the seeds and things that the birds normally feed upon at this season, and they are looking for help from their neighbors.

For some reason or other there seems to be a scarcity of birds this fall; for the last few weeks we have observed very few of any sort around. But where a spot was cleared of snow and some food put out they appeared from nowhere as if by magic.

Sparrows, juncas and starlings were soon at work on the feeding grounds, and a blue jay and cardinal were prospecting around looking over the field and seeing what the chances were going to be for winter feeding. It is certainly a wonder the way the word seems to go out over the bird grapevine when food is available.

The first bird to show up on our feeding lot was a starling. He soon departed and returned with a couple of his fellows. Next came a junca and he also departed and several of the little birds were soon making their appearance. Then a sparrow or two showed up and were soon followed by more of their kind.

THE HUNTERS

The Missouri quail hunters returned with a net kill of 8 or 9 quail and a half dozen they couldn't find. They also brought along some cigarettes and according to some of the boys Ed. Haseman had the quail, the smokes and all the rest of the plunder.

Ed, having furnished the dog, was given special consideration in the distribution of the spoils. The boys were grumbling the other day that he hadn't even reported on how good the quail tasted and hadn't passed out any of the smokes, being so busy since his return that he hadn't had time to visit the usual haunts of the gang.

Ed, however, bowled another series over 500 upon his return and seems to be one major leaguer who has got the drop on what to do with those tricky alleys.

BETTER AT HOME

The day after their return from the big hunt Stan Arendt and Roy La Londe went out and bagged three cock pheasants and a rabbit, netting more meat in poundage in one afternoon than the whole crowd had bagged in a week down in Missouri. "It's better hunting right here at home," say the boys.

BACK IN CIRCULATION

George Kenyon walked into the coffee hour the other morning on two crutches looking hale and hearty and expressing himself as delighted to be back in circulation again and able to get about town a little. He is getting uneasy at being cooped up and is raring to get out on the job.

George says he has learned too late in life that roofs are no place to fool around on, but he's glad to be getting along as fine as he is.

OCEANS OF FACTS

The surface waters of the Atlantic Ocean are saltier than those in corresponding regions of the Pacific, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Although the reason for this is not yet known, evaporation is probably less in the Pacific because of lower wind velocity, and rainfall is greater than in the Atlantic.

Stop lights a necessity at Palatine crossing

SAFE TRAFFIC

I would like to make a few corrections for the benefit of the pastor who last week had a good letter on safety.

Namely, he probably did not count the autos that pass the Palatine road-Northwest highway crossing for any length of time, because between 400 and 500 cars of all kinds, pleasure cars, light trucks and big trailer trucks use both roads per hour.

Also, don't overlook the fact that several school buses use this crossing each school day. Cost of one wreck of a bus would pay for the installation and maintenance of the lights for several years, but it wouldn't bring back the life of some child killed in such a wreck.

I am certainly surprised that any fair minded citizen of Palatine would suggest that it would not be fair to stop vehicles, to save lives or property. There are at least seven stop light crossings on Rand, Milwaukee and Waukegan roads, that don't have half the traffic that our corner has.

If drivers would use their heads a little, they know rarely would they have to make a complete stop for a light. They can coast up to a red light, and when it turns green, proceed on with no lost motion.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars safety committee began work on the idea of building an underpass under the highway near Wood street about three months ago and have already had one conference with the state highway engineer on the subject. We need both improvements for a safer Palatine. Let's all get together and pull for both.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

It would be presumptuous of me to evaluate the worthiness of the present abstract and surrealist exhibit at the Art Institute. It would also be unintelligent to assume a "closed mind" attitude and stay away from this most colorful of all shows because "these modernists are all crackpots, turning out pictures that look as if they were thought up in an insane asylum." Haven't you heard similar criticisms?

It seems to me that, since we are surely a part of this atomic era whether we approve of it or not, we must be ready for whatever our contemporaries present, be it in fashions, economics, the fine arts, war or peace. We are of the present, and though many of us love the old things, old houses, old friends, we do ourselves an injustice when we refuse to consider what is good in contemporaneous events.

Having these thoughts in mind, I was delighted to accept Dorothy's and Vera's invitation to attend a seminar last week at the Art Institute. I met them there in plenty of time for the first lecture at eleven. It was given by Amedee Ozenfant, one of the leaders of French Modernism, on abstract art. Every seat in the theater was filled with what appeared to be a most enthusiastic audience.

Mr. Ozenfant's lecture, in which he used slides for demonstration, was a wonderful preparation for this most colorful and stimulating exhibit in the second floor gallery. For my part, I felt as if I were seeing and understanding abstract art, at least in some degree, for the first time. And for the first time, I no longer felt the question of what the artist "meant" rise in my mind. I was at long last able to accept these works of art for their symbolic and rhythmic forms and stirring colors. These pictures and sculptures are alive! They are not imitations or repetitions of pictures we have seen over and over.

After lunch in the Institute's cafeteria, we attended Mr. Kurt Seligmann's lecture, with demonstrations, on the art of the surrealists. Mr. Seligmann was born in Switzerland and lives in New York. He is considered an authority on magic, a student of North Pacific Indian Art, and is a writer and scholar as well as a painter.

Surrealism is a movement in modern art which attempts to show the activities of the subconscious mind by means of images that frequently, as in a dream, are without apparent order. It is a fantastic expression of art, and should be acceptable to us, if we pause and reflect on our own dreams. Hardly any of us escape from dreams at some time or another. Maybe we think they are not worthy of putting down on canvas, but the artist thinks his dreams are, and who am I to question his right to do so?

I found the examples of this particular art amusing and arresting, and that is quite enough for me. I am perfectly willing to leave their artistic value to the judgment of the Art Institute—and posterity. And I am grateful to that institution for presenting this large and superbly hung exhibition of present day American art. I do not intend to let one trip suffice, for in looking over the catalogue here at home, I see I have missed a few of the artists showing whom I particularly enjoy. Julia Thecla, for one. She paints small, gem-like pictures, about whom you hear people say, "Now there's a picture I could hang in my home!"

My friend, Elizabeth Moir, can take her little son, Tony, to this show during the Christmas holidays and point out his Daddy's picture, called, "Painting." It hangs just outside of the gallery in the east corridor, and is an abstract.

The atom bomb as we know it now is a horrifying and hideous thing, but if its force can be diverted towards helping mankind to understand and solve his contemporary problems, it will be considered a beautiful thing. The approach is everything. What is exquisite to one person is ugly to another.

But there is usefulness and beauty in all if we are willing to search for it with an open mind. The trouble with most of us is that we are too lazy to get out of our mental ruts. What we need is a good push now and then to make us aware of what is going on about us, and pull the reins on our smugness.

If you're suffering from the doldrums, just drop those household cares for a few hours, and see the fifty-eighth annual exhibition of American Painting and Sculpture at Chicago's own Art Institute. I'll guarantee you'll return to hearth and family with renwed vigor and enthusiasm.

With love, Mary.

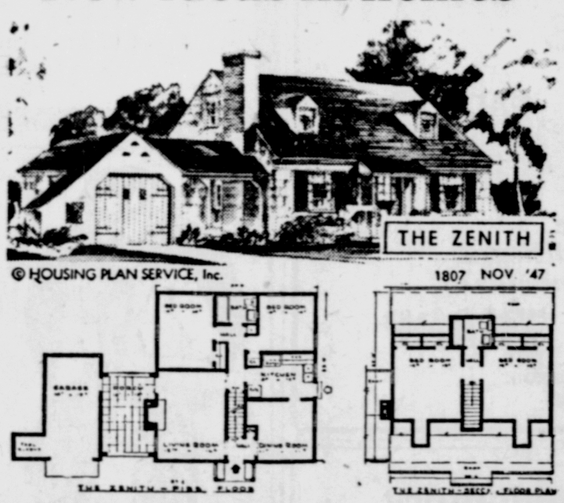
New ideas in homes



THE ZENITH—A thoroughbred—a true, blueblood with generations of American Colonial tradition back of it—is the best description of The Zenith. It is, moreover, a house with an eye to the future.

It offers a five room home on the first floor complete with living room, dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. You may add two more bedrooms and bath upstairs whenever you need them and feel you can afford them. Five rooms or seven rooms: the choice is yours and the design is in no way affected by your choice.

Every room is of good livable size. Each is well proportioned. The main portion of the house is almost square which facilitates economical construction. The living room has an open fireplace, the outside brickwork of which adds to the charm of the exterior.

The garage is attached to the house by an open porch which serves as a covered way from house to garage in bad weather. The little salt box extension that adds charm to the lines of the garage serves as a convenient storage for garden tools and keeps them out of the garage proper.

The roof dormers, the small paned windows, the homey front entrance, the wide painted shingles, are all authentic items of true Colonial.

The Zenith was designed to conform to the standards of the Federal Housing Administration. Its wiring plan is approved by National Adequate Wiring Bureau.

Complete detailed architect's blueprints and specifications cost $7.50 per set and are obtainable from Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

F. J. FREEMAN

Dec. 1 (1946))—Got a good close look at a rufous colored marsh hawk through my field glasses today. Could see the ring around its face which gives it an owl-like look. Marsh hawks, like screech owls, may be either grey or rufous colored.

Dec. 2—Getting cold—reported close to five above last night. Have seen mixed flocks of juncos and three sparrows.

Dec. 6—Up near Barrington with Cornelia today, and we saw a flock of sparrowy looking birds. On close inspection they turned out to be common red polls—the word "common" being an ornithological nomenclature and not our feeling about them. When seen close enough their wine red caps are unmistakable, and the males have a rose-washed breast. This is the first time we have identified this species. Thermometer up in the 50's again—like spring!

Dec. 8—Temperature up to 63—warmest on record. Busy putting up bird houses and feeders; children spading the garden and planting tulips; puttying windows against the time of cold winds. Saw the downy woodpecker and cardinal around. Hope they come to feed.

Dec. 9—Saw the winter goldfinch at Palatine today. This is our common summer "wild canary" whose brilliant yellow and black cap have changed to a warm buff color.

Dec. 10—Mild but strong south winds must have blown up the flock of five flickers I saw today. I suppose if they get the urge they can fly up from their southern headquarters overnight—and return just as quickly. Identified what my bird book called the red-legged black duck which (according to the book) is an arctic variety of the common black duck and comes down into the states in the winter. The red-legged variety has a different colored bill and a more buff colored head. Other bird books say that the red-legged black ducks are not a distinct subspecies but only a geographical variation.

Dec. 12—First snow today. Has been raining all night and morning and steadily getting colder. At last the first large, wet flakes started to fall in the afternoon. They stir the same excitement as when the first kernals of corn pop! Where do the birds go when the rain and snow come down and the winds blow? How can they so completely disappear from the landscape? Birds that dwell in the open must have a miserable time of it.

Dec. 17-18—Cold. Near zero!

Dec. 19—The downy woodpecke discovered our suet stump today. The starlings are eating frozen apples still on the trees and smacking their bills over them too!

Dec. 27—Up to 56 degrees today. Rain, strong winds—in for a drop in temperature. Saw flocks of tree sparrows and juncos in Palatine today. Saw only two crows all day long. They must be in hiding again. Was checking over the list of birds we identified this year and totaled up 163 species and estimated we could identify the songs or calls of about 60 species.

Dec. 29—This Sunday was reading "A Guide to Bird Watching" by J. Hickey, one of the books I received for Christmas. Hickey's book covers quite a range from simple "bird-loving" to the more scientific fields of bird study, and gives a lot of good practical advice on how to go about it. In the opening pages of the book I ran across this unique observation: "Bird watching . . . by some . . . is regarded as a mild paralysis of the central nervous system, which can be cured only by rising at dawn and sitting in a bog." This I must try some time.

Public Service head gets award

Britton I. Budd, president of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and chairman of the Illinois Soldiers and Sailor Service Council during the war, today was awarded the distinguished service medal of the American Legion, the legion's highest award.

The presentation was made by William P. Kleuskens, past commander, department of Illinois, before office associates and a committee of legionnaires at 72 West Adams Street, Chicago. The utility executive was cited for his work as chairman of the Council which gave free aid to over 150,000 Illinois soldiers and sailors during World War II and for "loyal cooperation in the promotion of a program for the betterment of the community, the state, and the nation."

In circuit court Mariam Harris sued Frank Ketter doing business as Skokie Cab Co., A. C. Blau and F. D. Carnall for $25,000 damages for injuries in a collision of cars at Crawford and Mulford aves. Aug. 2. She was a passenger in a cab that was hit by Carnall's car.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

1. When giving the floor number to an elevator operator, should one say "please"?

2. When carving meat for a dinner and one part is more choice than the other, to whom should it be given?

3. Should a man hold on to a girl's arm when walking along the street with her?

4. Is it proper to use "Hastily yours" or "Yours in haste" as the closing of a letter?

5. Is it necessary for a bridge hostess always to have a new deck of cards on the table?

6. Does a letter of condolence have to be lengthy?

7. When one is a guest at a house party, may he give orders to the servants?

8. When you are attending a church sermon or lecture, and are seized with a sudden fit of coughing, what should you do?

9. When a woman is traveling alone in a Pullman, what does she do when she wishes to retire?

10. Is it an act of refinement to talk loudly in a public place?

11. When a woman meets a man of her acquaintance, which should speak first?

12. Should you ever ask a friend what his or her salary is?

ANSWERS

1. Yes, of course. Say, "Five please." A "please" or a "thank you" are small courtesies that cost nothing, but mark the well-bred person. 2. It should be divided as well as possible among the guests. 3. No, it is not necessary, unless of course he expects her to break away and run. 4. No; this is extremely bad form. The popular form for concluding a social note in "Sincerely yours." 5. The bridge hostess should have two fresh decks of cards on each table. 6. No. A brief, but sincere, note is always in the best taste.

7. No, unless a servant has been assigned for that purpose. If extra service is required, the guest should make her wants known to the hostess. 8. Tiptoe quietly outside and remain until the coughing has been relieved. 9. Ring for the porter to prepare her berth. 10. No person of refinement is ever guilty of this—not even in his own home. A quiet voice is a mark of good breeding. To speak for the benefit of other people in street cars, buses, theaters, elevators, stores, on the street, is considered the height of vulgarity. 11. The woman. However, if they are old friends, he may speak first. 1. No.

Lesson in English

by W. L. GORDON

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "I am coming back again," or, "Bring the papers back again." Omit back or again. Say, "I am coming again," and, "Bring the papers back."

Do not say, "Neither of the boys were able to get their lessons." Say, "Neither of the boys was able to get his lesson."

Say, "I expect (merely implying belief) to go, and I anticipate (look forward to with pleasure) having a good time."

Ablution, when merely meaning to wash the face and hands, is either affectation or said to cause laughter. Ablution is specifically a washing as a religious rite.

The word death is preferred to decease in all usage, excepting that which is strictly legal.

Do not say, "The plumber welded the two pipes together." Together is redundant. Weld means to unite, or bring together.

WORDS OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Colander. Pronounce first syllable kul, u as in up, accent first syllable.

Pretense. Pronounce pre-tens, first e as in me unstressed, second e as in ten, and accent last syllable.

Desperado. Pronounce the a as in ray; principal accent follows the a.

Manor. Pronounce man-er, a as in man, e as in her.

Alloy. Pronounce a-loi, a as in at unstressed, accent last syllable.

Canton (China). Pronounce kan-ton, a as in can, o as in on, and accent last syllable.

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Celestial; pertaining to the spiritual heaven; divine. "The contemplation of celestial things will make a man both speak and think more sublimely when he descends to human affairs."—Cicero.

Dissension; disagreement in opinion. "Many voices arose in dissension."

Appellation; a name or title. "Christianity is with them a geographical, not a descriptive, appellation."—Faber.

Incorrigible; incapable of being corrected; not reformable. "A fool is often as dangerous to deal with as a knave, and always more incorrigible."—Colton.

Depict; to portray; describe. "He knows how to depict a story realistically."

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

1. When giving the floor number to an elevator operator, should one say "please"?

2. When carving meat for a dinner and one part is more choice than the other, to whom should it be given?

3. Should a man hold on to a girl's arm when walking along the street with her?

4. Is it proper to use "Hastily yours" or "Yours in haste" as the closing of a letter?

5. Is it necessary for a bridge hostess always to have a new deck of cards on the table?

6. Does a letter of condolence have to be lengthy?

7. When one is a guest at a house party, may he give orders to the servants?

8. When you are attending a church sermon or lecture, and are seized with a sudden fit of coughing, what should you do?

9. When a woman is traveling alone in a Pullman, what does she do when she wishes to retire?

10. Is it an act of refinement to talk loudly in a public place?

11. When a woman meets a man of her acquaintance, which should speak first?

12. Should you ever ask a friend what his or her salary is?

ANSWERS

1. Yes, of course. Say, "Five please." A "please" or a "thank you" are small courtesies that cost nothing, but mark the well-bred person. 2. It should be divided as well as possible among the guests. 3. No, it is not necessary, unless of course he expects her to break away and run. 4. No; this is extremely bad form. The popular form for concluding a social note in "Sincerely yours." 5. The bridge hostess should have two fresh decks of cards on each table. 6. No. A brief, but sincere, note is always in the best taste.

7. No, unless a servant has been assigned for that purpose. If extra service is required, the guest should make her wants known to the hostess. 8. Tiptoe quietly outside and remain until the coughing has been relieved. 9. Ring for the porter to prepare her berth. 10. No person of refinement is ever guilty of this—not even in his own home. A quiet voice is a mark of good breeding. To speak for the benefit of other people in street cars, buses, theaters, elevators, stores, on the street, is considered the height of vulgarity. 11. The woman. However, if they are old friends, he may speak first. 1. No.

Lesson in English

by W. L. GORDON

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "I am coming back again," or, "Bring the papers back again." Omit back or again. Say, "I am coming again," and, "Bring the papers back."

Do not say, "Neither of the boys were able to get their lessons." Say, "Neither of the boys was able to get his lesson."

Say, "I expect (merely implying belief) to go, and I anticipate (look forward to with pleasure) having a good time."

Ablution, when merely meaning to wash the face and hands, is either affectation or said to cause laughter. Ablution is specifically a washing as a religious rite.

The word death is preferred to decease in all usage, excepting that which is strictly legal.

Do not say, "The plumber welded the two pipes together." Together is redundant. Weld means to unite, or bring together.

WORDS OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Colander. Pronounce first syllable kul, u as in up, accent first syllable.

Pretense. Pronounce pre-tens, first e as in me unstressed, second e as in ten, and accent last syllable.

Desperado. Pronounce the a as in ray; principal accent follows the a.

Manor. Pronounce man-er, a as in man, e as in her.

Alloy. Pronounce a-loi, a as in at unstressed, accent last syllable.

Canton (China). Pronounce kan-ton, a as in can, o as in on, and accent last syllable.

WORDS OFTEN MISSPELLED

Patronize; ize. Enterprise; ise. Effervesce; observe the two f's and the sce. Eulogize; observe the eu and the z. Fellow; two l's. Felon; one l. Paralysis; sis. Paralyze; yze. Gorilla (animal). Guerilla (war).

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Celestial; pertaining to the spiritual heaven; divine. "The contemplation of celestial things will make a man both speak and think more sublimely when he descends to human affairs." —Cicero.

Dissension; disagreement in opinion. "Many voices arose in dissension."

Appellation; a name or title. "Christianity is with them a geographical, not a descriptive, appellation."—Faber.

Incorrigible; incapable of being corrected; not reformable. "A fool is often as dangerous to deal with as a knave, and always more incorrigible."—Colton.

Depict; to portray; describe. "He knows how to depict a story realistically."

Citizen committee to talk plans Dec. 15 for Northfield high school

Dr. N. E. Watson, Superintendent of the new Northfield high school district announces the first meeting of the Citizen Committee to assist in the educational plan December 15, at 8 p. m. will be held in the small auditorium of Northbrook High School. Although not all township organizations have reported delegates chosen, over one-half have reported and it is hoped that the list will be completed within a few days. Dr. Watson has expressed his appreciation for the enthusiasm and cooperation which this proposal has received.

Ask rezoning at Elmhurst and Rand roads

Two petitions for rezoning property in Wheeling township were referred to the County Zoning Board of Appeals by the public service committee of the County Board Friday.

Frank S. LaBounty, 3048 No. Larmamie ave., filed an application seeking reclassification of one acre located between Rand and Elmhurst roads, 400 feet north of the intersection of Rand Elmhurst roads in Wheeling township, from a farming district to a business district.

An application seeking to rezone from a farming district to a business district one-half acre of land in the same area, between Rand and Elmhurst road, 400 feet north of the intersection, was filed by the Sinclair Refining company.

LAW on the FARM

Warranty Deeds—Next to having their personal liberties defined and protected, people are perhaps more interested in secure property titles than in anything else. The security of title to real estate depends not only upon existing facts which affect it, but also upon the covenants or promises made to the purchaser by the seller. Facts may subsequently disclose that the title taken by a purchaser was faulty; but if the man who sold it warranted a good title, the buyer has recourse against him, either to make him clear the title or for damages in case the property is lost.

Two kinds of warranties may be made by a seller — express and implied. Express warranties are those contained in writing in the deed. Implied warranties are those that will be implied in law from the nature of the instrument, even though they are not mentioned in it. For example, when a farmer contracts to sell seed corn, there is an implied warranty that it will grow.

Since the public is interested in secure property titles, the Illinois legislature in 1872 provided that:

"Deeds for the conveyance of land may be substantially in the following form:

"The grantor (here insert name or names and places of residence), for and in consideration of (here insert consideration) in hand paid, conveys and warrants to (here insert the grantee's name or names) the following described real estate (here insert description), situated in the county of....., in the State of Illinois.

"Dated this.....day of ....., A. D. 18.....

A. B. (L. S.)"—(L. S. stands for "seal".)

The law further provides that every deed substantially in this form, when otherwise duly executed, shall be regarded as a sufficient conveyance in fee simple to the grantee, his heirs and assigns, and that the following covenants will be implied on the part of the seller or grantor:

1. That at the time of delivering the deed, he had an indefeasible estate in fee simple,

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George B. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Are secondary schools turning out adults? Are they vocationally mature? Industry frequently says "No," according to Guidance Newsletter of Science Research Associates in Chicago. Green Bay, Wis., employers found high school graduates lacking in "training, interest, and purpose." New York City employers, indicating that many employees lose jobs because of "personal immaturity," not lack of job skills, made recommendations to schools that resulted in inclusion of personality courses in 27 vocational high schools. Union leaders are also complaining of immaturity of high school graduates. Clinton Golden, United Steel Workers of America, says that vocational skills can be learned on a job in a short time but that the development of "cooperative personality" takes a long time.—(the above statement from the National Education Association Journal).

There has been an increase in the compensation of judges and clerks of election in counties over 500,000 (Cook) from $12 to $15 a day. If 200 or more ballots are cast, judges and clerks of election down state will be paid for two days' services. Those judges and clerks formerly were paid for two days only in Congressional primaries and Presidential elections.

In a recent bulletin issued by the federal government, there was graphically exhibited the tremendous expansion in our Federal bureaucracy. It takes a chart more than 3½ ft. deep and 3 ft. wide filled with type smaller than this to diagram the various agencies of the executive branch of the federal government as of July 1, 1947. These agencies are classified as follows: divisions, 632; offices, 557; branches, 139; services, 118; sections, 98; bureaus, 79; boards, 55; departments, 54; corporations, 29; commissions, 22; administrations, 23; units, 15; committees, 12; groups, 14; headquarters, 10; activities, 11; miscellaneous and functional designations, 441—2,309 different names of federal executive functions. As of April 1, 1947, Illinois had 104,000 federal civilian employees within its borders.

The winds are restless, uneasy they roam
About the farmstead that he called home;

The only decrease in population is shown in the counties east and north of the northwestern and central zones, where planting was most seriously delayed by rains during May 1947. Here there is a population of 114 borers per 100 plants. Bigger considers this a threatening situation.

Eighty borers per 1000 plants would mean about 8,000 borers per acre. "Even with considerable winter mortality there may still be 3,000 to 4,000 borers per acre in the spring of 1948," Bigger said.

LAW on the FARM

Warranty Deeds—Next to having their personal liberties defined and protected, people are perhaps more interested in secure property titles than in anything else. The security of title to real estate depends not only upon existing facts which affect it, but also upon the covenants or promises made to the purchaser by the seller. Facts may subsequently disclose that the title taken by a purchaser was faulty; but if the man who sold it warranted a good title, the buyer has recourse against him, either to make him clear the title or for damages in case the property is lost.

Two kinds of warranties may be made by a seller — express and implied. Express warranties are those contained in writing in the deed. Implied warranties are those that will be implied in law from the nature of the instrument, even though they are not mentioned in it. For example, when a farmer contracts to sell seed corn, there is an implied warranty that it will grow.

Since the public is interested in secure property titles, the Illinois legislature in 1872 provided that:

"Deeds for the conveyance of land may be substantially in the following form:

"The grantor (here insert name or names and places of residence), for and in consideration of (here insert consideration) in hand paid, conveys and warrants to (here insert the grantee's name or names) the following described real estate (here insert description), situated in the county of....., in the State of Illinois.

"Dated this.....day of ....., A. D. 18.....

A. B. (L. S.)"—(L. S. stands for "seal".)

The law further provides that every deed substantially in this form, when otherwise duly executed, shall be regarded as a sufficient conveyance in fee simple to the grantee, his heirs and assigns, and that the following covenants will be implied on the part of the seller or grantor:

1. That at the time of delivering the deed, he had an indefeasible estate in fee simple,
2. That the property was at that time free from incumbrances.
3. That the grantee will have quiet and peaceable possession and that the grantor will defend the title against all persons lawfully claiming it.

The laws referred to may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes Chapter 30, Section 8.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

You probably know or at least have heard about the big drive that Arlington Heights Township High School is putting on to obtain warm clothing to send overseas. It is really an important event because Arlington is going all out in European relief. In addition to this drive for clothing, Arlington has adopted a whole European school and will provide for its needs. The European Clothing Drive will start December 9 and every student in Arlington will be expected to bring some shoes, or coats or gloves or scarfs—anything that will help keep someone warm through the winter.

If any of you adults should read this column and have some old clothing that you might otherwise burn or rip up, call a high school student in your neighborhood and he will be pleased to take your contribution to the collection center at the high school.

The drive is a worthy project and it needs everybody's wholehearted support. Give it yours.

—Y. C.—

Don't forget tomorrow is the first scheduled basketball game of the season. Niles vs. Arlington in our own gym. Varsity game at 8:45. But listen, why not come to the J. V. game at 7:30. You'll be seeing the future Arlington varsity quintets in action. And believe me, you won't witness more exciting games.

—Y. C.—

Let me remind you again to keep thinking over candidates for officers for Ramble Inn. The election will be held around the first of the year. Don't forget to think of ones that have plenty of ideas. I will have the method of nomination for you in next week's column.

—Y. C.—

Ramble Inn will be open this Friday after the basketball game. Don't forget to come on down. All visitors from Niles will be invited too. It will be a swell way to finish off a victorious evening.

—Y. C.—

The different classes at A. H. T. H. S. are sponsoring afterdances after some of the basketball games this year. The Y. C. will follow its policy of being closed when these dances are held. Everybody support the after-dances and the classes that hold them.

—Y. C.—

Oh, the cager season's started
And the gym is ready for the duel
Ready for the gay, light hearted
Who'll be out to cheer their school.
Ready for the shifty feet
Of players for the Red and White
Who'll turn on a savage heat
To keep our glory pure and bright.
Yes our players will be victory bound
This Friday evening here
But they'll play much better if we're around
To urge them on and cheer.

Cheer leading a full time occupation at Arlington

by DOUG SCHIMMEL

Wh? Why the cheerleaders, of course. And to be more specific, those smooth-looking cheerleaders here at Arlington High. Starting with the Cardinals' opening game this week, we'll be seeing a lot of these girls with their red megaphones and snappy cheers. Let's take a look to see what's behind these A. H. T. H. S. morale-boosters.

First we have the varsity six: Jane Page, Joan LaMar, Jean Baldwin, Doris Fuhr, Jackie Ryan, and Audrey Wille.

COLORFULLY attired in white letter sweaters, white skirts, and red and white saddle-shoes, these girls couldn't help but add pep and sparkle to a basketball floor. Personality and ability are the two qualities these girls not only had to have, but had to develop even more to be able to cheer in front of large crowds. Being a top-notch cheerleader does not happen over night.

That's where Mrs. Hohenhorst comes in. She, if you haven't already guessed it, is the adviser and coach for all girls participating in cheerleading, and this is no small job. In addition to the varsity, she also supervises the combined Junior Varsity and Freshman squad.

Every Wednesday these groups meet with Mrs. Hohenhorst to learn new cheers and methods as well as practice to perfection the standard yells. Spending their after-school hours going through the same motions over and over again is no picnic, as the girls will tell you, but it's something that has to be done if the cheers are to be well given at the games. Painstaking practice and lots of kork is the prescription for a good cheerleader.

YELLING for the J. V. team we have Kay Krabill, Jeanine Burnier, Donna Mills, Diane Ashe, Pearl McDonald, and Marilyn Franke. The J. V. games often show just as much fight and excitement as the varsity and you can be sure the fellows on the team will get plenty of support from these excellent cheerleaders.

Back to Mrs. Hohenhorst, we find that one of the new policies she is putting into effect is the practice of having a chosen captain for the cheerleaders for each game. This will be run just as the basketball players have a temporary captain for each of their games.

THE FROSH team will have the backing of three Freshmen girls who are also on the J. V. cheering squad: Donna Mills, Diane Ashe, and Marilyn Franke. These girls are having their first try at cheering, and from all I hear, they are better than holding their own.

Still another idea new to A. H. T. H. S. is the use of the megaphone in leading cheers. Bright red with white "A's", they are very attractive as well as being an aid in announcing the next cheer to the spectators.

Cheerleaders have always been and will continue to be a vital cog in the athletic program of a high school; so much so that a game wouldn't seem complete without the spirit and gayness which the girls instill in the spectators. So next time you see those lively lassies in their bright outfits, help the team by helping the cheerleaders — they surely deserve it. Are you with me? Let's go.

Leave Farms for Cities

Birth rates on farms are higher than in cities. The farm birth rate is such that for every five young men reaching maturity on farms, two must leave the farm if agriculture is not to expand beyond its market opportunities and if cities are not to decline from lack of population, the U. S. department of agriculture reports.

Right up in the FOUR-FRONT
SCATTERED across this nation are some of the cagiest automobile buyers the world ever saw.
They cut their eyeteeth on a steering wheel, so to speak—they know car values from A to izzard – and you have to be plenty good to step ahead of your price class in the volume of your sales to them.
That's why it's startling – sometimes even to us – to see the double-barreled story of public preference that's written in the sales records and registration figures:
ITEM: Only three cars outsell Buick—and all of these are in the so-called "low-price field."
ITEM: In some localities – and quite often in polls that ask "Which car will you buy next?" – Buick ranks not fourth, but third, actually ahead of one of the lowest-priced three.
Naturally, the smart buyer will ask "How come?"
Well, the most standout style of the season, the style that's the clearest forecast of wonderful things to be, undoubtedly has much to do with it.
But that isn't all. The dollar is still a pretty important measuring stick.
So we don't think Buick could be where it is if it didn't offer a bigger dollar's worth – bigger in size and substance, in lift and life, in soft ride and easy handling, bigger in the all-round happiness you'll get out of your buy.
Which suggests, of course:
Why go against the solid judgment of your fellow men? Why not see your Buick dealer now—with or without a car to trade – and place the order that will put you where you belong, right up in the four-front?

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

You probably know or at least have heard about the big drive that Arlington Heights Township High School is putting on to obtain warm clothing to send overseas. It is really an important event because Arlington is going all out in European relief. In addition to this drive for clothing, Arlington has adopted a whole European school and will provide for its needs. The European Clothing Drive will start December 9 and every student in Arlington will be expected to bring some shoes, or coats or gloves or scarfs—anything that will help keep someone warm through the winter.

If any of you adults should read this column and have some old clothing that you might otherwise burn or rip up, call a high school student in your neighborhood and he will be pleased to take your contribution to the collection center at the high school.

The drive is a worthy project and it needs everybody's wholehearted support. Give it yours.

—Y. C.—

Don't forget tomorrow is the first scheduled basketball game of the season. Niles vs. Arlington in our own gym. Varsity game at 8:45. But listen, why not come to the J. V. game at 7:30. You'll be seeing the future Arlington varsity quintets in action. And believe me, you won't witness more exciting games.

—Y. C.—

Let me remind you again to keep thinking over candidates for officers for Ramble Inn. The election will be held around the first of the year. Don't forget to think of ones that have plenty of ideas. I will have the method of nomination for you in next week's column.

—Y. C.—

Ramble Inn will be open this Friday after the basketball game. Don't forget to come on down. All visitors from Niles will be invited too. It will be a swell way to finish off a victorious evening.

—Y. C.—

The different classes at A. H. T. H. S. are sponsoring afterdances after some of the basketball games this year. The Y. C. will follow its policy of being closed when these dances are held. Everybody support the after-dances and the classes that hold them.

—Y. C.—

Oh, the cager season's started
And the gym is ready for the duel
Ready for the gay, light hearted
Who'll be out to cheer their school.
Ready for the shifty feet
Of players for the Red and White
Who'll turn on a savage heat
To keep our glory pure and bright.
Yes our players will be victory bound
This Friday evening here
But they'll play much better if we're around
To urge them on and cheer.
